F

OR NEARLY HALF A CENTURY ALBERT W. DICKENS HAS BEEN A

LOYAL BOOSTER FOR THE AGGIES. HIS LIPS HAVE SPOKEN HER

PRaises AND HELD SILENT HER SHORTCOMINGS THROUGH THE YEARS, AS

A FACULTY MEMBER AND AS STATE FORESTER, PROFESSOR DICKENS HAS WORKED HARD TO PRESERVE THE STately TREES ON OUR CAMPUS. HIS

HEART HAS BEEN FILLED WITH THE FIRE OF A SPIRIT THAT IS THE KANSAS

AGGIES, AND HE HAS GIVEN THE BEST YEARS OF HIS LIFE THAT THAT SPIRIT

MIGHT NEVER DIE.

TO ALBERT W. DICKENS THE 1930 ROYAL PURPLe IS RESPECTFULLY DEDICATED.

FOR THE TWENTY-SECOND CONSECUTIVE YEAR A
YEARBOOK IS PUBLISHED AT THIS COLLEGE. DEVELOP-

MENTS IN THE ANCIENT ARTS OF PRINTING AND ENGRAV-ING, AND A DESIRE TO CREATE SOMETHING DIFFERENT, HAVE THIS YEAR ENCOURAGED A DEVIATION FROM AN OLDER ORDER OF THINGS, AND THE 1930 ROYAL PURPLE IS THE RESULT. THE BASIS FOR DIVISION IS CHRONOLOGICAL
AND THE BOOK THEREFORE HAS ONLY THREE PARTS. FALL, WINTER, AND SPRING. THE ACTIVITIES OF THE SEVERAL SCHOOLS OF THE COLLEGE HAVE BEEN PLACED IN THE SEASONAL PORTION OF THE BOOK CORRESPONDING TO THE PERIOD OF THE SCHOOL YEAR IN WHICH THEY SEEMED MOST PROMINENT.

IN PRESENTING THE 1930 ROYAL PURPLE TO THE STUDENTS OF THE KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, THE EDITOR
AND HIS ASSOCIATES HOPE THEY WILL NOT ONLY FIND THAT IT REFLECTS THE LIFE AND SPIRIT OF "THE AGGIES," BUT THAT THEY WILL ALSO KEEP IT THROUGH THE YEARS AS AN ACCUR-ATE RECORD OF THE EVENTS OF 1929 AND 1930.

THE HILL

"I'll meet you in Anderson." How those words ring with warm familiarity to every man or woman who has ever been an Aggie. One of the oldest buildings on the campus, it stands as a monument to the work of John A. Anderson, an early president of the college. Beginning with the north wing, devoted to the classes in agriculture, additions were made until the native white limestone building, now administrative, stood complete. From her ancient ivy-covered tower, each morning and each noon, the tones of the college bell may be heard above the din of noisome horns and passing traffic.

ANDERSON HALL

Men delved into history and brought forth the library in Tudor Gothic style of architecture. With quiet tread we go to find the oldest classics of the world, the stories of philosophy, religion, and races from the very early moments of recorded history. Here we discover the papers of Addison and Steele, the poetry of John Milton, and the gems of the thinking of men from oldest times to the modern day . . . Plato, Aristotle, Confucius, and Freud. We encounter on our way the serious minded and the scholarly. They seek to learn, and that right well, for college is no place of frivolous leisure and pleasant idleness for them.

THE LIBRARY

Each day the lagging steps of the student late to class seek the welcome shade of historic Fairchild. Its walks lead to chapel, and to the gymnasium. Its northern lawn is graced by the statue of Senator Harris, a Kansas stockman. On warm spring days its beauty is enhanced by fluffy snowballs, white and beautiful. This former library and building of the agricultural sciences bears the name of the college president from 1879 to 1897, George T. Fairchild. Constructed of native rugged limestone, it symbolizes the lasting quality of his work for the "Aggies". Ardent students of zoology, physiology, and history now trudge up its well worn stairways.

FAIRCHILD HALL

In Horticulture hall the most minute organisms of plant life assume life-like proportions under microscopes. Here men study the haunts of the Phycomycetes, while down below carefree "Ags" returning from a field trip fill their pockets with college apples. Nearby we find the college greenhouse, filled with wonders of another world . . . the palm, the famed banana tree, and beautiful flowers. To the left we see the rock garden, and the silver reflecting pool covered with pond lillies. To the east we see the formal garden, lover's lane, and the president's home, while in the green valley below stands the stately pine grove.

HORTICULTURE HALL

Erected to the gods of fair play and clean sport, Nichols gymnasium portrays in its architecture those noble characteristics of the brave knights of feudal England. Named for a former president, the towers of Nichols hark back to the day of chivalry in old Britain. We are reminded also of the years when we were struggling for a place in the sun. Within these walls men learn to be good sportsmen, and to play the game for the love of it. Led by "Mike" and "Bo" they are here imbued with that fighting Wildcat spirit, the flame of which grows brighter as the years go by . . . and somehow, never dies!

NICHOLS GYMNASIUM

Electrical currents and railroad curves mingle with cosines and tangents in this temple of empire builders, the Engineering building. Behind its portals men study who will someday build a higher Eiffel tower, or a better Brooklyn bridge. To the right lies the memorial stadium, scene of many grid-iron battles. To the left one sees Kedzie hall and the main campus drive. Behind the building is the roaring giant of heat and light, the new power plant. Across the little valley to the front, one may see the spring football men hitting the line, and tennis rackets swinging smartly. From around the right of the hall there often emerges a happy group returning from a baseball game or an intramural contest.

ENGINEERING BUILDING

Dedicated to one of the oldest and most honorable professions of man, agriculture, Waters hall shelters the northern portion of the campus with its two white limestone wings. Across the valley one sees the residence of college women, Van Zile hall. To the right one may see the oldest building on the campus, farm mechanics hall. To the north lies the livestock barns, the old serum plant road, and the poultry pens. From the rear, the lowing of cattle and the smell of new mown hay indicate that ours is a college of practice as well as theory. Henry Jackson Waters, for whom the hall is named, was president of the college from 1907 until 1917.

Board of Regents

THE Kansas state institutions of higher education have been, since July 1, 1925, under the management of a state board of regents, the nine members of which are appointed by the governor for terms of four years each. While such selection is not statutory the appointments have been made to represent all congressional districts, with one at large. W. Y. Morgan has been chairman of the board since its creation; Mrs. Lola K. Crow is secretary. The members receive no salary, but are paid expenses when on school business. Four meetings a year are required, but many more than that number are held.

Primarily the board of regents was established that the state schools under its direction might be taken out of politics and be conducted as a unit of higher education, with such coordination as to give the fullest service possible, and to avoid undue overlapping of curricula. To this end the board has maintained close contact with the work of the schools, and has sought to bring their activities into a harmonious and effective relation to complete educational accomplishment.

The following institutions are under the control of the board at present: University of Kansas, Lawrence; K. S. A. C., Manhattan; Bell Memorial hospital, Kansas City; state teacher's colleges of Hays, Emporia, and Pittsburg; and experiment stations at Colby, Fort Hays, Garden City, and Tribune.

Members of the board with the expiration of their terms are: W. Y. Morgan, Hutchinson, June 30, 1930; C. M. Harger, Abilene, June 30, 1930; M. G. Vincent, Pittsburg, June 30, 1930; C. B. Merriam, Topeka, June 30, 1931; C. W. Spencer, Sedan, June 30, 1931; B. C. Culp, Beloit, June 30, 1932; W. E. Ireland, Yates Center, June 30, 1932; C. C. Wilson, Meade, June 30, 1933; and O. A. Stauffer, Arkansas City, June 30, 1933.

THERE are three general types of colleges. One type, the old fashioned arts college, offers only courses that people study chiefly for the purpose of learning how to live. A second type, a sort of collegiate trade school, offers only vocational courses that people study chiefly for the purpose of learning to earn a livelihood. A third type occupies an educational field between the first two. It offers a variety of courses, including many that are strictly vocational and many others that are non-vocational to most students.

Kansas State Agricultural college is of the third type. It is a technological institution where students are trained for more than four hundred occupations in the fields of agriculture, engineering, home economics, general science and veterinary medicine. Besides technical subjects, these students are required or encouraged to study numerous courses that are essentially non-vocational.

The college provides for well balanced education that helps to fit young men and young women for both usefulness and happiness. It is a college of the people, helpfully interested in everyday problems and proud of its place in American education. Its four thousand students represent every section of Kansas, more than half the states of the Union and several foreign countries. Its atmosphere is youthful, vigorous, democratic and stimulating.

THE position of the dean of women is based on the ideal for students of the highest physical, intellectual, social, moral, and spiritual development. The objective of the dean of women is through co-operation with the various campus and community agencies to contribute to the realization of this ideal. The problems of living conditions, of health, of student employment, of vocational guidance, of social and religious life, of student discipline, and of the extra-curricular activities are but different aspects of this objective and are her special concern.

The dean of women serves on committees, recommends students for loans, sponsors the Big Sister program, housemother meetings, personal and group interviews and social events. She co-operates with the Student Governing association, with Mortar Board, with the Y. W. C. A., with the panhellenic councils, with the A. A. U. W., with the college appointment bureau and with the churches of Manhattan, giving to each the support that is needed to make their work with students effective. She fosters in the students the president's ideals for the college and presents to the president the student view point.

The routine duties of the dean of women's office do not express the deeper significance of the dean's work. Her office is a place of friendliness and helpfulness. The service rendered by her staff is recognized as an essential factor in the life and ideals of the college.

THE office of the Registrar is primarily concerned with keeping an accurate record of the results of college teaching and making those results available to the students, to other institutions, to honor societies, and to social or literary organizations.

In the last few years this office has taken on a new significance, and the discovery has been made that much of statistical value is found in the study of the grades earned by students. It is therefore fast becoming a laboratory for research in education, the grades being used as a basis for thesis material for graduate students.

Numerous studies may be carried on in this laboratory in the attempt to arrive at improved methods of teaching, more equitable methods of grading, causes of success or failure in college, student mortality, the effect of athletics on scholarship, and the effect of environment on scholarship. The possibilities of using the registrar's office as a scientific laboratory are being rapidly developed and thus the students of the college are, in a very real sense, contributing to the future welfare of their fellows for the information thus obtained will undoubtedly influence methods of college procedure in the future.

This year, 1929-1930, three thousand nine hundred ninety-one (3991) students have furnished the laboratory material for various forms of research—a larger number by one hundred twelve than last year.

THE curricula of the Division of Agriculture provides training for those who wish to devote their lives to agriculture, the largest and most essential industry in Kansas. The division is well prepared to provide such training. It is well manned by a large staff of high-class teachers who are specialists in their respective fields of work. It is equipped with adequate laboratory facilities, extensive greenhouses, large numbers of high-class animals of all important breeds, and numerous experimental fields and plots that make it one of the best equipped agricultural educational organizations in the world.

Training is offered by the division in four curricula: agriculture, agricultural administration, landscape gardening and the combined six year curricula in agriculture and veterinary medicine. These curricula offer opportunity for the election of a wide choice of subject matter and provide adequate training for more than 100 useful and interesting occupations.

The members of the class that graduated in 1929 are now employed in 24 different occupations, all in the field of agriculture and all necessary for the fullest development of the agriculture industry of the state. Thirty-six percent of this class are now farming, others are serving in the class room, in scientific laboratories, in county agent activities, in flour mills, in greenhouses, in creameries, in editorial work, in landscape gardening activities, and many other positions serving agriculture. The attractive opportunities open to well trained men in all lines of agriculture endeavor are numerous.

ENGINEERING plays an exceedingly prominent part in modern life. Most of the conveniences, comforts and luxuries of our civilization are the direct result of engineering effort. The work of the engineer is chiefly to adapt and to utilize for the benefit of mankind the forces and materials of nature. Each new discovery of the physicist and chemist and each new practical application of known physical and chemical phenomena present new opportunities for further extension of the field of service of the engineer, so that his work is constantly broadening and expanding, and the number of men required to carry on the engineering activities of the country is constantly increasing.

The enrollment in the Division of Engineering of the Kansas State Agriculture college has grown in recent years until it now includes more than one thousand students, approximately twice the enrolment of ten years ago. The reason for this growth is found in the constantly increasing application of engineering methods and engineering products in all fields of human action, and the opportunity this provides for increasing numbers of graduates of this institution to find interesting, worth while, and profitable employment in engineering activities.

The Division offers four year curricula in agricultural engineering, architectural engineering, architecture, chemical engineering, civil engineering, electrical engineering, flour-mill engineering, landscape architecture, and mechanical engineering.

PROGRESS is made through a knowledge of pertinent facts and information. It is not only through the simple possession of pertinent information that progress is made, but by its intelligent practice by individuals and by groups.

As population increases and better means of communication are perfected, progress becomes relatively more dependent upon group than upon individual action. Consequently, successful extension teaching requires not only constant study regarding facts and information which pertain to the problems of the rural community, but also to the principles of group action.

In a thesis recently submitted for a doctor's degree in an eastern university it was shown that of twenty points necessary for a successful extension worker, subject matter knowledge was the eighteenth point in rank of importance. Of the seventeen other points given as superior requirements, eight were personal qualifications contributing to leadership.

These facts are important to know if one is to perform a function in his community as a leader and one whose influence may be exerted to accomplish progress by means of groups.

THE various objects which parents have in view in sending their children to college, and those of students who go to college on their own account, differ widely in character. Primarily most of them are related to occupational effectiveness. In this age of speed, mass production, sharp competition, intelligent combination and severe individual strain, it is of great importance in all education to provide adequate technical preparation and training for one's chosen occupation, and at the same time to insure some fitness for the duties of citizenship in a republic, and for lifelong satisfaction in one or more of the fields of general culture.

Most of the curricula offered in this college are professional in character, that is, they prepare one for work in a definite occupation involving considerable intellectual and cultural development.

It is the province of the Division of General Science to give the fundamental training in mathematics, english and the several sciences that is essential to adequate acquisition and use of the specialized technical disciplines. At the same time it offers subjects that develop the capacity for intellectual and emotional enjoyment that is independent of vocational application.

Furthermore, there are several professional curricula administered by this division, most of the courses in which are given by it. These are: commerce, general science, industrial chemistry, industrial journalism, physical education for men, physical education for women, public school music, public school band and orchestra, piano, voice, and violin. In each of these there is more or less opportunity for varying the work through the choice of electives. In this way those who are preparing for teaching may get courses in education, and those who plan to enter scientific research may greatly increase their specific preparation.

DR. RODNEY W. BABCOCK, the new dean of the division of General Science, is a mathematician and physicist, young, scholarly and genuinely interested in students, especially good students. At the time of his appointment to the deanship here he was chairman of the department of mathematics and director of the Astronomical Observatory at De Pauw University. He did his undergraduate work at the University of Missouri where he majored in mathematics. His graduate work was done at the University of Wisconsin where he majored in mathematics and minored in physics. He obtained the M. A. and the Ph. D. degrees at Wisconsin.

For six years before going to De Pauw, Dr. Babcock was a member of the mathematics faculty of the College of Letters and Science, University of Wisconsin. At the same time he worked with the university examiner on college entrance work and was active in the development of a student-advisor system. In these activities, as well as in his teaching, he was popular with both students and faculty members. Before going to Wisconsin, he was a member of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania. It is hoped that in addition to his work as dean Dr. Babcock will offer an elementary course in astronomy, a course which should be popular with many of the better students of all the divisions of the college. Dr. Babcock is one of the prominent younger members of the Mathematical Association of America and is vice-president and secretary of Gamma Alpha, national graduate scientific fraternity.

“GENUINE home-making is much more than what is called housekeeping. Good housekeeping is a sine qua non of home-making, but it is not sufficient. In addition to this, successful home-making requires provision for the culture and happiness of the family, for the intellectual, spiritual and aesthetic well-being of the household. It is not confined to the interior of the house. It extends to the surroundings of the dwelling and to the entire community. Genuine home-making is an exceedingly difficult and supremely important undertaking. It is a business, a science, and an art. It is the greatest of all the professions.”

Thus does a great educator of today epitomize the work for which the division of Home Economics strives to give worthy training. Dean Margaret M. Justin and the teaching staff of the division find inspiration and responsibility in the professional instruction of the large number of young women, most of whom will be the home-makers of the future. Many other professions are open to women trained in home economics, and graduates of the Kansas State Agricultural College are in important positions throughout the world.

There are three curricula in the division: general home economics, home economics with special training in art, and home economics and nursing. Graduate work is offered with the possibility of majoring in food economics and nutrition, clothing and textiles, art, household economics, institutional economics, child welfare and eugenics, and home economics education. The training received by the student has been planned with regard for both the cultural and practical aspects of education.

THE summer school is an integral part of the regular college year. There are two sessions, one beginning immediately after the close of the spring semester and continuing for nine weeks. The other is held for four weeks during the month of July. Practically all departments offer a wide range of graduate and under-graduate courses. Since all the laboratories, libraries and facilities of the experiment station are available the summer school offers an excellent opportunity for graduate work.

The controlling purpose of this college in administering the summer school is to furnish a pleasant work environment for the students. Outside attractions and distractions are reduced to a minimum. We purposely avoid creating a vacation environment, predicated on the theory that the students come to the summer school for work not for a vacation. It is the unanimous opinion of faculty and students that the students do better work in the summer school than during the regular college year.

The student body is made up of about forty per cent of students who are enrolled during the regular college year, and sixty per cent of teachers from the schools of the state.

A formal commencement is held at the close of the summer school for students completing the work for the B. S. and M. S. degrees. Eighty-two B. S. degrees and fifty M. S. degrees were conferred at the summer school commencement in 1929.

IN THE United States there are eleven veterinary schools—all of them state supported—and all connected with colleges and universities. One is at the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Four of the American schools have received recognition from the federal War Department by delegation to each of them of an army veterinary officer, and the establishment in each of a veterinary unit of the Reserve Officer's Training Corps. The Kansas State Agricultural college is one of the four.

The physical equipment for the teaching of veterinary medicine in this college is excellent, consisting of Veterinary hall, and the Veterinary hospital—both large stone buildings—as well as the general college buildings. Commodious classrooms and well equipped laboratories are in evidence.

In addition to receiving instruction from members of the general college faculty—the students in veterinary medicine are guided in their academic work by the veterinary staff, consisting of twelve men, all graduates from leading colleges and universities.

The opportunities for veterinarians are continually broadening, and all of them virtually have the assurance of remunerative professional employment upon graduation from college, either as veterinary practitioners, as federal and state veterinarians, in the United States Army, as research workers in animal diseases, as teachers, and by employment in closely related fields.

In order to matriculate as a student in veterinary medicine, high school graduation or its equivalent is essential. For the 1929-1930 college year, 120 high school graduates were enrolled.

THE office of men's advisor and secretary of the Y. M. C. A. is the center of many and varied activities. In this office is to be found the employment bureau, and the rooming house bureau for men. Students come to the office for help, counsel, and guidance in increasing numbers.

The headquarters of the college Y. M. C. A. is located in the office of Dr. Holtz. This organization has a usual membership of from seven to eight hundred, with seventeen standing committees, several special committees, and many individual responsibilities. The college "Y" carries on a very extensive and comprehensive program.

The men's advisor is ready at all times to be of any assistance possible to any student. He welcomes opportunities for personal interviews and conferences.

A good slogan to follow: "When discouraged, come to Doc's office."

FOR the last ten years Student Council has been in control of student affairs on the campus of the Kansas State Agricultural College. During these ten years, the power and the prestige of the council has grown, and its place on the campus has become firmly established.

A Student Self-Governing Association at Kansas State Agricultural College had its beginning in the spring of 1920. The purpose of the organization was to place the control and advancement of student interests and activities in the hands of the student body.

At the time of the organization of the body, there were twenty-one students placed on the executive council with many other students working on committees. The president and vice-president of the executive council were elected from the student body at large and the other nineteen members were chosen representatives from campus organizations. Under this system the secretary and treasurer were elected from the body as well as all the committee chairmen.

Students' Governing Association

IN THE spring of 1926, a meeting of the student body was held and a new constitution was passed upon which called for a Student Council composed of seven members to be elected from the student body at large. The name of the council was changed from the Student's Self-Governing Association to the Students' Governing Association. From that time to this, student affairs at the Kansas State Agricultural College have been handled by a council of seven members.

At the present time, every member of the college student body is a member of the Student Governing Association. Payment of the five dollar activity fee at the beginning of each semester entitles the student to membership in the association. Membership means the privilege of casting votes at class elections, to run for office in the class elections, to vote for members of the Student Council and to be a candidate for membership in that body.

Members of the Student Council are elected each spring to hold office until the new members are elected the next year. Upon presentation of a petition signed by twenty-five persons, any regularly matriculated student of sophomore standing may become a candidate. Candidates may also be nominated at the annual spring meeting of the association. The Council has full power to regulate social functions of all kinds, establish rules and regulations for student residences and enforce discipline among students as outlined by the executive bodies of the college.

At the first meeting of the Student Council after its election in the spring, the election of officers is held. The president has charge of all official business and presides at all meetings, the vice-president is chairman of jurisprudence, the secretary is chairman of student's social affairs, and the treasurer has charge of the funds.

OPPORTUNITIES for leadership and service to K. S. A. C. continue and become most effective after the student leaves the campus. Our alumni maintain an active interest in their Alma Mater. Their activities are as varied as campus activities. Many are influential in sending outstanding students to K. S. A. C. Others are active in their local alumni associations. Others express their loyalty by giving money or gifts to the college, the Alumni Loan fund, or the Memorial Stadium. Still others are interested in obtaining adequate appropriations and favorable legislation to meet the needs of a growing institution.

The Alumni Association is active and effective in all practical enterprises that tend to build a greater K. S. A. C. Further, and as a result of homecomings, class reunions, alumni meetings, and the disseminating of college and alumni news through the Kansas Industrialist, the spirit of K. S. A. C. developed by the students on the campus continues to grow and to become more and more a source of intense pride and satisfaction to the alumnus.

Our new alumni, the class of 1930, will find that the Alumni Association begins where their student days end. The Alumni office is the connecting link between the former student and K. S. A. C.

Athletic Council

COMPLETE control of the department of athletics at the college rests in the hands of the Athletic Council. This board is composed of the director of athletics and six members of the college faculty. Duties of the Council include the consideration of all questions of finance, the hiring of coaches, approving schedules for all games and athletic contests, and approval of recommendations by the coaches for "K" letter and sweater awards. In fact, all major matters are referred to the Council for approval or rejection. Dr. H. H. King, chairman of the Athletic Council, is the representative to the Big Six conference faculty council and is chairman of that board. Most of the problems of the latter consist of questions of eligibility of athletes in the conference. Director M. F. Ahearn has been head of the department of athletics since 1920, and has attained a high degree of efficiency in this capacity. He is also the representative of the Missouri Valley section on the National Football Rules committee. Members of the Council are: Dr. H. H. King, chairman, head of the department of chemistry; M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics; Prof. E. L. Holton, head of the department of education; President F. D. Farrell, Prof. R. I. Throckmorton, head of the department of agronomy; and Prof. G. A. Dean, head of the department of entomology.

ALVIN N. "BO" McMILLIN gave Kansas Aggie football fans during the season of 1929 just what they were looking for—plenty of thrills. Upon the field the clever mentor would place a fighting eleven which would always turn out their best and keep the opponents on the alert for the many trick plays. McMillin was noted for his trick plays, and he used them to win at least one ball game during the season of 1929. It was Coach McMillin's second year at Kansas State Agricultural college and although he did not win a majority of his games, he was admired by not only the members of his squad but by the student body as a whole. When "Bo" would talk at a pep meeting, there was complete silence. The former All-American from Centre College in Kentucky has won a host of friends since coming to Kansas State two years ago, and with the proper material will develop a winning ball team for the Wildcats. He regards his players as "boys" and treats them as his brothers, never having cruel words to say, but always talking to them in a way that shows he is there to teach, not to command. McMillin believes in football along with education and not football alone, stressing scholarship among his athletes. With a somewhat lighter schedule next season than last year, the Wildcat eleven under Coach McMillin should have a better season, although the loss of several men will be felt.

Assistant Coaches

HEAD coaches alone cannot develop athletic teams; they must have assistants to carry on the minor details or to coach other phases of the game. Assistants at the Kansas Aggies have given invaluable aid, and too much praise cannot come the way of those who are helping to mould the character and ability of the athletes who represent Kansas State. "Oss" Maddox, a protege of "Bo" McMillin at Geneva college, accompanied the Wildcat mentor to Manhattan and has served as line coach. He was one of the outstanding tackles in the east while playing under Coach McMillin at the Pennsylvania school. This was his second year here. Frank L. Myers, assistant to the director of athletics, has been in the department for a number of years. From 1920 to 1924 he was "Mike" Ahearn's secretary, and later coached for three years at Junction City high school. He returned to his duties here in 1927 and has been assistant since that time. Frank P. Root, the "handy man" of the athletic department, has been an assistant coach in football and basketball since 1923, and has charge of all athletic equipment. He is a former Aggie star, having played football and basketball at K. S. A. C. before the World War. C. S. Moll is here in his first year as coach of tennis and swimming. He is also an assistant in the department of physical education for men. L. P. Washburn, head of the department of physical education for men, and director of intramural athletics, has been at the college since 1926. A. A. "Doc" Holtz is a former Colgate football player. He has been an assistant freshman coach for several years, and has given much valuable help to the department.

A CAPABLE leader was at the helm of the McMillin machine in a majority of its conflicts last season in the person of Alva H. "Hoxie" Freeman, captain of the Kansas Aggie eleven, and an Aggie three sport man. A giant tackle, who possessed both size and ability, he was one of the outstanding linemen of the conference. Although the big leader was handicapped by a serious knee injury which kept him from a majority of the games, he was in the battle to his utmost while playing, and led the fighting Aggies on. Freeman, a three letterman in football, basketball, and baseball, has been one of the most outstanding athletes at Kansas State in several years.

Leadership of the 1930 football team was placed in the hands of Alex Nigro, fleet footed halfback and three sport man from Kansas City. The former Manual high school star and All-Kansas City high school back has been one of the formidable ball carriers of the conference for two years, and is also noted for his passing and receiving ability. Alex never lacks in spirit and is a natural leader. He is a star in three sports, football, basketball, and baseball. Captain-elect Nigro, like Captain Freeman, was out of two conference games during the past season, but the games he played were a credit to his ability. Coach McMillin is of the opinion that Nigro will make a capable leader for the 1930 gridiron squad.

Purdue 26---Kansas Aggies 14

IN THEIR first game of the season, the Kansas Aggies learned that it was not yards gained that won football games, but total point advantage, for against the strong Purdue Boilermakers, the Wildcats piled up 364 yards through passes and scrimmage to 304 for the Riveters, but lost by a count of 26 to 14. But regarding the fact that Purdue went through the season undefeated and outside of Michigan, the Aggies scored the most number of points against them, the proteges of Coach McMillin showed the Phalanmen a good contest. It was the drives of Glen Harmeson, All-Big Ten back, that dealt the defeat, along with successful attacks by Purvis, Kissell, White and Yuncvitch, sophomore Purdue backs. Purvis went over in the first period and Kissell went over twice in the second period, both of the latter being resultant of passes. A long pass, McMillin to Hardtarfer for 55 yards put the ball on the one yard marker where Wiggins drove over for the first Aggie counter near the end of the second period. Tucker kicked the goal. Harmeson went over again for Purdue after passing the ball near the goal. In the final period, Alex Nigro broke loose for a 59 yard run which put the Aggies within scoring distance. A 15 yard pass to Daniels put the ball on the four yard line and Weller drove over the line for a touchdown. McMillin, Wiggins, and Nigro were backfield stars while Meyers was the strong point in the line.

Texas Aggies 19--Kansas Aggies 0

A SULTRY October day in Texas with a hot sun pouring down on their backs, along with an opponent that knew as much about this passing game as an army man does stories, served as good reasons for the Wildcats dropping their second game of the season to Coach Matty Bell's Texas Aggies at Dallas during the Texas state fair. Getting a psychological advantage by scoring a touchdown in the first four minutes of play, the Longhorn Aggies looked supreme. After receiving a kick off, completing a long pass, and getting the benefit of a 15 yard penalty which brought the ball to the 1 yard line. Dansby drove over for a touchdown. The Texans held this lead and in the third quarter Captain Mills flipped a pass to Varnell for 49 yards and another six points. It was the clever running of Captain Mills and Zarafonetis that defeated the Wildcat eleven, along with their clever passing attack. Captain Mills reversed the field in the third quarter and ran through the entire Wildcat team for a touchdown. It was true that the Aggies had the tough breaks of the game and the climatic conditions were not too favorable, but the inability to block the passes of the Texas squad was the big difficulty. Yeager and Cronkite in the line and McMillin, Wiggins, Swartz, and Nigro in the backfield were the outstanding Aggie players in the Texas Aggie game.

Kansas U. o--Kansas Aggies 6

PLAYING probably the smartest football of the whole season, Coach McMillin's "boys" did the unexpected and triumphed over the rival University of Kansas team at Lawrence in the opening game of the Big Six conference by a score of 6 to 0. The game was played through a rain with Governor Reed as one of the witnesses of the state fued which went back to the Aggies after having been wrenched from their control a year before. An early Jayhawk drive was thwarted when the Aggie line braced when they were backed to the goal line. The winning touchdown came in the second period as a result of a cleverly maneuvered triple pass. Coach McMillin had spent much time on this trick play the week before and it proved to be the needed one. On the 45 yard line, Ray McMillin took the ball from center and faked toward the left side of the line, wheeled about tossing the ball to Nigro who was ten yards behind and to the left side of the field. Nigro carefully took the ball and gave it a mighty heave to Bill Towler who was going at top speed. The pass was for 50 yards and Towler carried the ball to the one yard line before being tackled. Wiggins drove through Bauman's guard for the touchdown. The trial for point failed, but it was not needed. Another K. U. drive headed by Jim Bausch was stopped in the closing minutes of play.

Oklahoma 14--Kansas Aggies 13

WITH a 10,000 Homecoming and Diamond Jubilee crowd looking on and Captain Freeman and C. O. Tackwell witnessing the game from the bench with injuries, the Wildcats dropped one of the most spectacular games of the season to the Oklahoma Sooners in the Memorial stadium by a count of 14 to 13. The loss was resultant of Sooner linemen coming through and blocking Tucker's kick for extra point after the first touchdown. The Sooners used straight football while the Aggies mixed passing with their football. The Wildcats gained 279 yards to 103 for the Sooners. The Aggies scored first when Wiggins drove over in the first period. Mills tied the count in the second period with a touchdown and Mayhew put them in a lead with a point kick. In the third period Churchill rushed Wiggins and knocked him down when he was passing, and recovered the ball on the 14 yard line where the Sooners made way for another touchdown. A pass to Price Swartz for 15 yards after which Swartz plunged the line for a foot brought the second Aggie counter. Cronkite passed to Meissinger for the extra point. The play of Bauman, acting captain for the Aggies, in the line, and of Wiggins, Nigro and McMillin on the offense were outstanding features along with the many thrills caused by the "Bo" McMillin passing game.

Missouri 6---Kansas Aggies 7

THREE heroes, who gave all the credit to "the rest of the boys," were developed in the Wildcats 7 to 6 victory over the Missouri Tigers. The Aggies won the game for Alex Nitro who lay in a Columbia hospital with a leg infection. George Wiggins intercepted a pass and raced 85 yards to score the touchdown. C. O. Tackwell came from the players bench with a bad leg to kick the goal for the winning point. The Tigers outclassed the Aggies with exception of the final period when the Wildcats staged their spurt. The Missouri touchdown came in the second period when Gladden took a pass from Waldorf and ran 40 yards. Their try for point was wild. Late in the final period, George Wiggins, fatigued but willing, intercepted a pass and weaved his way behind excellent interference across the goal line where he fell exhausted. Tackwell was ushered into the lineup and the giant lineman split the uprights with his kick for extra point and an Aggie victory. The victory was of a small fighting team over an overconfident squad which thought that because dope pointed their way they should be victorious. Yeager and Bauman in the line were great defensive players, while Ray McMillin ran the Aggie team with much skill in the closing minutes of play.

Iowa State 2---Kansas Aggies 3

JUST three years ago, Iowa State defeated the Kansas Aggies by a score of 3 to 2 by scoring an intentional safety in the last of the final period. But this time it was the Kansas Aggies that won from the Cyclones by a 3 to 2 count and did this by the intentional safety route. The game was played through a drizzling rain and Coach McMillin put out only what was necessary to win, for Nebraska coaches and players were in the stands. Just before the second period closed, Coach McMillin called on C. O. Tackwell to kick a field goal. His drop-kick was from the 23 yard line where Auker and Weller had carried the ball by end runs and line plays. The Aggie coach was using his reserve backs in the game. The Wildcats continued on the defense throughout the remainder of the game which was rather slow because of the mud and cold weather. Holding the Iowa State team for downs, the Aggies would get the ball and Cronkite would kick it far down the field and again let the Cyclones be on the offense. In the last quarter, the Aggies were backed to the goal line and Evans was sent into the lineup as quarterback. The reserve signal caller hit the line twice and then scored an intentional safety to prevent the possibility of a punt being blocked behind the goal line and the Cyclones falling on it for a touchdown.

Nebraska 10--Kansas Aggies 6

IN a game for the title of the Big Six conference, the Kansas State Wildcats lost to a stronger and better Nebraska squad by a score of 10 to 6, but it can never be said that Bo McMillin's Aggies lost the championship because they did not fight. Nebraska was better, but the Aggies did not think so and set out to beat the Huskers and annex a title. It was this kind of spirit that McMillin instills into his football teams. Early in the first period, Nebraska scored two points on a safety when Ray Richards blocked one of Cronkite's kicks behind the goal line and fell on the ball. In the second period the Huskers obtained the ball and marched down the field where Young lashed the line for six inches and six points. Farley's try for point was wild. Coming back in the second period a revived eleven, Coach McMillin's Wildcats put up a stronger offense. A touchdown came as a result of two well executed forward passes. McMillin flipped one to Towler for 20 yards to put the ball on the Husker 20 yard line. He let another fly to Nigro for 16 yards and then drove through the center of the line and crawled over the Husker goal line for a touchdown. Wiggin's try for point was blocked. Weller scored an intentional safety for the Huskers in the last period when the Aggies were backed to their goal line making the final score, Huskers 10—Wildcats 6.

Marquette 25--Kansas Aggies 6

AS THE Kansas Aggie passes found excellent nestling places in the arms of Marquette backfield men, the Wildcats lost their last game of the 1929 season on Thanksgiving day to the Golden Avalanche team at Milwaukee by a score of 25 to 6. The Aggies were disheartened over their loss of the Big Six title and played the Marquette team in near zero weather. The Aggies battled with their backs to the wall in the first half but with Bauman and Wiggins stopping the Golden Avalanche backs in tight places, they did not score in the first period. Sisk took Tackwell's kickoff in the second half, ran for the other side of the field and sidestepped tackler after tackler to run 75 yards for a touchdown. Later in the same period, Sisk intercepted McMillin's pass on the 50 yard line and raced half the length of the field for another counter. The Aggies received and penetrated Marquette territory only to have Klause intercept a McMillin pass on his 25 yard line and race 75 yards for a touchdown. Corbett was the next to intercept an Aggie pass, only he chose a shorter distance to run, and galloped but 35 yards for a touchdown. The Aggies only touchdown came in the closing minutes of play when Auker flipped a pass to Evans on the 35 yard line and the midget quarterback raced 35 yards for the counter. Auker's kick was low and the Wildcats dropped the closing battle 25 to 6.

ALTHOUGH the Kansas Aggie football team did not have such an eventful season, it was feared by nearly every eleven that faced it. In opening the season against the Purdue Boilermakers, the Aggies scored 14 points which was the second highest number scored against the Riveters in the season. Purdue was undefeated and rated as one of the strong contenders as national champions. The other non-conference games were with strong opponents, and although the Aggies did not mark up a non-conference victory, they made a good showing wherever they went by their clever football tactics drilled in them by "Bo" McMillin. The former All-American quarterback put on the field for Kansas State last season one of the cleverest football teams that ever played in the purple jerseys. "Bo" was not only a football coach but a psychologist. His players played for him along with playing for the love of the game and for their school. He was recognized among other coaches as being clever and always ready to present a new trick play which he hoped might mean victory. Such plays made the Aggie team colorful and brought crowds to see them in action against a foe, even though the foe may be superior on paper. The Aggies outgained nearly every team throughout the season.

SEVERAL of the Kansas Aggie players drew recognition on mythical selections rating from All-American to all-state. Of these men, probably "Casey" Bauman and C. O. Tackwell drew the most honorary fame. The two veteran Aggie guards were rated in the conference and mid-west papers as outstanding and in order to put them both on many elevens, Tackwell was shifted to a tackle. Bauman acted captain throughout the games in which Captain Freeman was unable to play and ran the team well besides being a tower of strength on the defense. The play of George Wiggins, sophomore fullback, on both offense and defense, drew considerable comment from the press throughout the circuit. Alex Nigro, because of his clever running attacks, and Ray McMillin, because of his ability to run the team and to toss accurate passes, also drew recognition. Henry Cronkite, elongated sophomore tackle and end, was praised by many for his kicking ability, especially for his knack of kicking them out of bounds near the goal line, thus preventing a run-back by the opponents. Bill Towler, Captain Freeman, Price Swartz and others also were recognized by the press in the selection of mythical teams and honorary rolls for the 1929 season.

GROOMED by Head Coach Ward Haylett, and assisted by "Chili" Cochrane and "Doc" Holtz, a good freshman football squad was produced last fall at the Kansas Aggies. The team of men eligible played two games, dropping one to Kansas by a count of 39 to 7 and winning from the Creighton yearlings 12 to 0. The only Aggie touchdown at Kansas was the result of a 70 yard run by Jack Going. Zeckser and J. Woodyard made the Aggie touchdowns, and Morgan at end, Walker in the backfield, and Smelser at guard were outstanding. At the bottom is pictured the frosh squad. Numerals were awarded to G. H. Brummer, D. C. Barnett, D. F. Beach, F. A. Cain, L. H. Dalton, E. C. Daniels, B. J. Deters, O. H. Dilsaver, R. E. Eberle, C. E. Emel, J. Going, R. H. Gump, G. R. Harsh, H. L. Hasler, R. B. IN THE most thrilling campaign for a football title ever staged in the Big Six conference, there were players from all of the schools that were entitled to mention for mythical teams. Some were left off because they did not play enough games because of injuries. Following is a mythical team selected by the coaches and officials of the conference and printed in the Kansas City Star. It may be recognized as much official as any other named. Pictured in the center panel from top to bottom are: "Jim" Bausch, driving 200 pound fullback from Kansas; Orin Tackwell, tackle and kicker from Kansas State; "Casey" Bauman, great defensive K-Aggie guard; "Giant" Richards, outstanding Husker tackle; Sloan, Nebraska backfield ace. Above the panel is Crider, Oklahoma, carrying the ball, and Herb Brayton, Missouri guard. Below at the top is "Smilin' Tom" Churchill, versatile end of the Sooners; John Waldorf, Missouri captain and back; Smith, Missouri center; and Hursley, Missouri end. Other Aggies to make second or third elevens on this pick were Wiggins, Cronkite, and Nigro.

Cheerleaders

THE job of the Kansas State cheerleaders was made relatively easy during the 1929-30 season, due to the fact that the student body displayed the best school spirit in years. The pep meetings were attended by huge crowds, the cheering at games was very good, and the returning Aggie teams were met by large numbers of students at the railroad stations.

"Chick" Allison was head cheerleader for the second year. He was assisted by Karl H. Pfuetze, Manhattan, who served his second year as varsity cheerleader; Paul Westerman, Wamego, who finished his third year as varsity man, and E. D. Chilcott, a sophomore from Manhattan with one year of experience.

Freshmen who were successful in the tryouts for cheerleaders were: W. E. Curtis, Wichita; S. G. Dalton, Dodge City; and G. W. Page, Norton.

Allison and Pfuetze graduated this spring, and therefore will not return. Chilcott, Westerman, Dalton, and Page will be back next September to cheer Aggie teams on to victory.

Men's "K" Fraternity

THE Men's "K" Fraternity was organized to promote clean athletics and good sportsmanship in all athletic competition in which Kansas State is a participant. The fraternity is composed of men who have earned a letter or letters in a major intercollegiate sport. It was founded at this college in 1913.

Cross Country

WINNING every dual meet throughout the season and placing third in the conference meet at Lincoln, the Kansas Aggie cross country team had a very successful season. With four lettermen back and several promising sophomores, Coach Ward Haylett and assistant coach T. F. Winburn, developed one of the outstanding teams of the conference. Because a majority of his time was spent with freshman football, Coach Haylett turned most of the cross country duties over to "Nurmi" Winburn, former cross country star and track captain. In the first meet of the season, a triangular affair against Oklahoma university and the Oklahoma Aggies, the Aggies finished first with 29 points, Oklahoma Aggies second with 45 points and the university third with 46 points. Captain H. S. Miller of the Aggies was first, finishing the five miles in 26 minutes, 11 seconds. Jenkins of Oklahoma Aggies was second, Dawson of the university was third, Toadvine of the Aggies fourth, Hoyne of the Aggies sixth, and Carter and Gile of the Aggies tied for eighth. At Missouri, all six of the Wildcat runners finished ahead of any Missouri runner, winning by a score of 16 to 43. Miller, Backus, and Toadvine tied for first, Carter and Hoyne tied for fourth and Gile was sixth. The time was rather slow as the leading runners waited for the remainder of the team. The Kansas Aggies won a close dual from Iowa State here. Putnam of Iowa State won the race but Aggies finished well enough up to get the meet. Oklahoma won the conference meet held at Lincoln and Kansas finished second. The Aggies were third in the meet. Dawson of Oklahoma established a record of 23 minutes, 57 seconds in the five miles which is a new world's record if accepted. Putnam of Iowa State was second; Moore, Oklahoma, third; Toadvine, Aggies, fourth; Fortune, Kansas, fifth; Hinshaw, Kansas, sixth; Griffith, Nebraska, seventh; Miller, Aggies, eighth; Backus, Aggies, thirteenth; Carter, Aggies, twentieth; Gile, Aggies, twenty-eighth. Captain Miller was out of condition for the race, having spent the week before in the hospital because of illness.

Lettermen in cross country were, K. L. Backus, Osawatomie; John Carter, Bradford; Henry Gile, Scandia; John Hoyne, Salina, H. S. Miller, Kansas City, and Lec Toadvine, Dighton.

Fall Intramurals

INTRAMURAL athletics has gained a big hold on the male student body of Kansas State, with 1,618 or 85 percent of the men students participating in the various sports last season. This is a very large percentage, and each year it is growing larger. In the fall, soccer, horseshoe pitching, cross country and basketball are the sports. Lambda Chi Alpha was the winner of the huge intramural challenge trophy last year with a total of 1,418 points. Delta Tau Delta, defending champion, was forced to take second with 1,126 points. Other high point scorers were Phi Kappa Tau 1,023, Omega Tau Epsilon, 875, and Sigma Phi Epsilon, 836. Starting this fall, Sigma Nu opened the first team sport with a victory in the soccer tourney, wrenching the championship from Delta Sigma Phi, winners for three successive years. The final game was between the Sigma Nu and Phi Kappa Tau organizations with the Sigma Nus winning 2 to 1 on Jack Going's two goals. Members of the team were McCollum, Condell, Going, Haws, Grigg, Bickle, Johnston, Philip, Evans, Harsh and Hasler. Competition was very strong throughout the fall and many tie games were played by the more than 20 teams entering the meet.

PHI LAMBDA THETA repeated in the winning of the championship in cross country. Alpha Gamma Rho was the runner-up in team points. Members of the Phi Lambda Theta team were C. Collins, R. Patterson, L. Schwanke, O. Leasure and M. George. William Leasure, an independent, ran the three miles in 16 minutes and 27 seconds to win the race while Pierce, another independent finished a close second. J. Foster, Phi Kappa, was third; Harold Richardson, Sigma Phi Sigma, ranked fourth, and Wally Forsberg, Sigma Nu, was fifth. R. B. Smith, Lambda Chi Alpha, won the singles in horse-shoes for the second straight season and teamed with R. W. James won the doubles tourney. B. R. Christie, independent, was the singles runner-up and R. Patterson and S. Roehman, Phi Lambda Theta, were doubles runners-up. In the basketball tourney, Delta Tau Delta won both the intramural and panhellenic championships. In the intramural finals they defeated the Aggie Knights 26 to 21. Sigma Nu was runner-up in the panhellenic race.

Women's Athletic Association

THE purpose of the women's athletic association is to furnish opportunity and rewards for athletic recreational activity. This organization is open to any woman student who has made 100 points by participation in some sport. Any member of W. A. A. is eligible for Purple Pepsters, the girl's pep organization. By making 1200 points through participation in sports a K sweater may be earned.

W. A. A. Council

THE W. A. A. Council is responsible for the promotion and organization of the Women's Athletic Association. Its purpose is to interest all of the women on the campus in some athletic activity, that they may discover the joys and benefits to be derived from wholesome, invigorating, outdoor sport. The creed of fine sportsmanship, good leadership, and good fellowship makes possible the transformation of high ideals into action.

Women's "K" Fraternity

THE purpose of the Women's "K" Fraternity is to promote good sportsmanship in women's athletics. A "K" sweater is the award given by W. A. A. to the girl who has made 1200 points. A chevron is given for each additional 200 points and in place of the fourth chevron a star is awarded. A girl must be proficient in nearly every sport to amass sufficient points for a sweater.

Women's Athletics

Among the activities of the women's athletic department is the organization which gives its time to the study and promotion of interpretive dancing, Orchesis. These scenes were taken in the formal garden near the hort building. Members are: Velma Allen, Juliana Amos, Loraine Barrett, Maxine Hawley, Una Irwin, Mary Bell Read, Pauline Samuel, Helen K. Wyatt, and Jo Young.

Jo Young and Lorraine Barrett pose in their Frivol costumes, while the Baby Sister Blues chorus looks pouty. The Pi Phi swimming team gets ready for a dip, and the championship Alpha Delta basketball team doesn't care one bit. The varsity basketball team looks for more worlds to conquer, as do Pirates of Frivol. The Golfer Chorus of Frivol just finished turning in a low score.

Women's Athletics

Instructors in the women's department of physical education pose for the cameraman. They are: Katherine Geyer, Rachel Morrow, Bernice Patterson, and Helen Saum. Other pictures were taken during interesting moments of the K Fraternity picnic. Several of the girls try a little horse back riding, and Hoxie and Mildred Huddleston devour their share of the food.

Block and Bridle Club

IN 1914 an organization known as the Jayhawker Saddle and Sirloin Club was established on the campus. The purpose of this club was to promote the livestock industry, aid in animal husbandry departmental activities and stimulate student interest in animal husbandry as a profession. In 1921 this club entered the national organization of Block and Bridle and became known as the Kansas Chapter of Block and Bridle.

THE Collegiate 4-H Club was organized December 12, 1927, by a group of former 4-H club members and leaders attending college.

The purpose of the organization is to promote a wider acquaintance among its members, to maintain and increase their interest in club work, to develop leaders in the field of club work, to aid in any campus activity relating to club work, to further the best interests of K. S. A. C., and influence other club members to come to this school.

During the first semester of the organization's existence the club set as a goal the establishment of a 4-H Club Loan Fund for 4-H club members attending college. This goal was reached on December 20, 1929, when the club gave the alumni association the sum of $1000 for administration.

In the fall of 1928, the club took charge of the publication of Who's Who, a year book of Kansas 4-H club members and their achievements. Fifteen hundred copies of the book were printed and distributed to all the state club departments and the club members attending the state 4-H Club Round Up in the spring.

The club fosters the broadcasting of 4-H club programs over the radio every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. The aim of these programs is to interest 4-H club members throughout the state and elsewhere, and acquaint them with college activities.

In addition to its social functions, the club has been active in men's and women's intramural athletics, Aggie Orpheum, Farm and Home Week, and the Diamond Jubilee.

Klod and Kernel

THE Klod and Kernel Klub was organized April 6, 1917. It is composed of faculty and students in the department of agronomy. The programs which are presented at each meeting are so planned that they will promote friendship among the members and increase interest in the agronomy profession. The club sponsors a student cross-judging contest each year and takes an active part in the annual Ag Fair.

THE student of civil engineering may participate in some of the advantages of membership in the American Society of Civil Engineers by joining a student chapter. It will give him familiarity with the organization and work of the society, develop his ability to present technical subjects in a clear and forceful manner, and help him acquire parliamentary skill in conducting meetings.

Kansas State Engineering Association

THE engineering association has a membership of all the engineers in the division, numbering about a thousand during the year. The association is governed by an executive council made up of representatives from all departments. The aim of the organization is to foster all activities in the engineering division and create among the engineering students a better spirit. Among the activities are the publication of The Kansas State Engineer, the traditional cleaning of the "K" each year by the freshmen, and the presentation of the Engineer's open house.

FALL FEATURES

Miss Frances Jones

Fall Queen

Haw! Haw! Haw! Didn't we have fun on those fine crisp mornings in October when the power house whistle warned of a raid from the Jayhawkers. At the left we see the bogus Kansas City Star reporters cleaning the paint off the greenhouse windows. This was just before they received a treatment from the senior vets, and did they smell! Pheu! The other pictures are just glimpses of the greatest hair cutting orgy that has ever struck eastern Kansas, and it was surely worth the money. Above is pictured a short interruption in the parade of 23 prisoners of war downtown, while below we see the front end of the advance party reaching Lawrence on that memorable day.

While the Aggies were cutting more hair than they knew what to do with, the Jayhawkers were having a big time with the two unfortunates who were caught in Lawrence, Cotton Tietze and John Merritt. They got a taste of the cleaning, too, and a touch of head-shaving and head painting thrown in for good measure. Above at the right we see Lindley's army collected to protect the honor of the school. What might have happened if a dozen Aggies had gone down?

Just below the statue of the Kansas Pioneer seems to have been caught in a sudden storm of fresh white duck soup of some constituency, and then plastered with the famous motto before he could get dry!

Clear, cool, autumn days—what glorious football weather! Aggies returning from the games away from home found a peppy crowd at the station to meet them, whether they won or lost. Near the top, Hoxie and Bo Peep strike up an acquaintance, while just below Bo Peep poses with her chief ward and worry, old Bo himself. The Wampus Cats staged their bicycle race to determine the championship of the Big Six, but somehow it didn't come out that way. At the left the Aggies are seen just after they arrived in Milwaukee, while just below Quigley flips to see which goal the Wildcats will defend.

The Aggies prepared to meet the old grads with a lot of cordiality during Homecoming, and to make the welcome a good one, they decorated the houses in an attractive fashion. The Sig Eps won the prize with their emulation of the drive to the Oklahoma territory. Others who used the covered wagon idea were the Phi Delt and the A. T. O. s and the Alpha Rho Chis. The Phi Kappa Taus took a step forward and placed an old Ford (vintage unknown) in their front yard. Those entering the Sig Alpha door walked through the mouth of a giant wildcat, while the front entrances of Delta Tau and Phi Kappa were adorned with huge letters.

Manhattan's Diamond Jubilee was held in celebration of the founding of the city, and it was signally successful. On the day of the big parade, there were real oxen, real Injuns, and huge floats of all kinds. Among the most beautiful were those of the Manhattan Kiwanis Club, the Cress Hudson Company, the Long Oil Company, and the float inviting those present to attend the gigantic bridge dedication at Wamego a little later in the fall. The college band and the several organizations of the R. O. T. C. as well as the cavalry units of Fort Riley helped to make the parade impressive.

It was really too bad that the Blackbird Party could not be successful in the fall elections. Their platform was more worthy of consideration by the student body than either of those presented by the other parties, but those horrid old politicians just wouldn't let the best party win. Above, Dorothy Simpson locates a point with her transit, and below the other girl members of the engineering division pose for the Royal Purple photographer. Above at the right Alex (Tony) Nigro attempts to sell his wares, while his other Phi Kappa brothers look on with interest. The freshmen parade in the center, and clean the K at the right. Alpha Zeta pledges, with forks on their shoulders prepare to clean out the chapter house.

Scabbard and Blade and Mortar and Ball, honorary military fraternities, put their neophites through hell week, and what we mean is that it really was hell week! Zeke Richardson, lance corporal of the Scabbard and Blade animals, occupies a prominent place in the snapshots on this page. Tony Borecky, the ideal whitewing, looks for work on the right, Ernest Jenista offers highest prices for old clo'es and old shoos on the left. Above, the Mortar and Ball pledges look like a bunch of tough hebies, and really mean it. Truly these were two weeks of entertainment for the student body, who shuddered at the thought of onion and tobacco chewing.

Basketball

CHARLES CORSAUT
Basketball Coach

SINCE 1923, Coach Charles Corsaut has served in a duo-mentor role as head coach of basketball and baseball at Kansas State and since that time has put out many creditable teams in both sports. The basketball team of the past season won nine and lost seven games, six of the seven losses coming in the conference. The Wildcats finished in fifth place in the conference this season but did so because of the lack of natural basket shooting. Corsaut came to K. S. A. C. from Kansas City, Kansas, high school where he put out a national championship high school team. He has never been blessed with basketball material but this year put out a team which upset the champions in one of their two reversals of the season in one of the most thrilling games ever witnessed on the Nichols gym court. Corsaut had one of the best defensive teams in the conference but the team lacked on the offense. The Big Six race during the past season was one of the closest ever and there was little difference between the first and last place teams. Coach Corsaut's team showed great power in non-conference games throughout the season and he developed a number of promising sophomores that should make creditable records in the next two years.

Basketball

CLEM D. RICHARDSON, Hugoton, led the Kansas Aggie basketball team in their 1930 invasions and proved to be one of the outstanding players in the Big Six conference, making a number of the mythical selections. Clem was a guard that was always alert on the defense and a sure scoring power on the offense. He was one of the highest scorers of the Aggie five, although he played guard throughout the season. Clem was a quiet sort of a leader, but very serious and received the backing of the entire basketball squad in his work. He made two letters in basketball and will be greatly missed next season.

An honor was bestowed on Alex Nigro that has been rare in athletic circles at Kansas State. After being elected football captain in the fall, fellow members of the basketball squad vested the same honor upon him, and he will lead the Wildcat five on the court next year. He was a good forward, being the high point man of the Aggie team throughout the season. He was a great fighter and saved several conflicts for the Aggies by his "never-give-up" spirit which carried him on. Much is expected of the Aggie leader next season and Coach Corsaut hopes to develop a team around him.

Basketball

TAKEING off to an early lead, Coach Corsaut's Aggies triumphed over the St. Marys Knights in the court season opener at St. Marys by a score of 36 to 18 with Nigro leading the attack. Leading 23 to 7 at the half the Aggies had little trouble and Coach Corsaut used his entire squad. Auker and Richardson starred at guards. Another romping victory was scored in the same week of pre-season games when the Wildcats trimmed Kansas Wesleyan at Salina by a score of 32 to 19, with Nigro again leading the scoring and Captain Richardson close behind. Silverwood looped three field goals in a short period of time while in the game. Cronkite looked like a valuable offensive man, getting three field goals. Two more scalps were hung to the cagers' belts when they invaded Colorado soil early in January to defeat the Colorado college five 53 to 34 and 35 to 28. Nigro and Silverwood were offensive stars with 14 and 17 points respectively, while the guarding of Auker and Richardson during the last half was exceptionally good. In the second game Richardson, Silverwood, and Nigro were offensive stars, Richardson scoring 11 points, Silverwood ten and Nigro eight. Auker played a great defensive game at his guard post and Russell played a good floor game. Cronkite's work around the basket was also good.

INABILITY to hit the hoop from the free thrown line cost the Aggies the opening Big Six basketball game with Nebraska on the home court by a score of 41 to 39. The game was thrilling throughout with each team holding the lead several times and the score being tied five times. Silverwood was the Aggie high point man while Grace led the Husker basket slingers. In their second Big Six game, the Wildcats were lost on the new court at Columbia dropping one to the Tigers 34 to 21. A ragged offense failed to function well and the defense failed to stop Charley Huhn of "Mizzou." Cronkite was left at home because of illness. In a game full of fouls, 29 being called on both teams, the Wildcats triumphed over the Oklahoma Aggies in a non-conference game on the Aggie court 47 to 35. The game was a wild offensive affair with Nigro getting 15 points and Richardson nine. The Aggies eked out of the cellar position by defeating Oklahoma university in a fast, wild tilt on the home court by a score of 24 to 23. Captain Churchill of the Sooners bore the brunt of their attack with ten points and a great defensive game, but Auker, Cronkite, and Nigro made enough points for a narrow victory. The floor work of Russell and the guarding of Auker and Captain Richardson were also supreme.

COMING up against a kind of defense that they could not penetrate, the Aggies fell before the Iowa State Cyclones at Ames by a count of 37 to 21. Cronkite was the only Wildcat able to hit the basket, getting nine of the points and being the only player to score more than one field goal. Moving on to Nebraska the next night, the Aggies were "hot," and ran up a 46 to 42 victory over the Huskers on their home court. Nigro and Russell each scored eight field goals and Cronkite scored three and three free throws. Maclay with 19 points was the high Nebraska scorer. An eight time tied battle was won by the Jayhawks in the state fued on the Aggie court by a score of 29 to 26 before a capacity crowd of more than 3,000. It was the floor work and basket shooting of Bishop that defeated the Aggies. Auker, breaking up Jayhawk plays and grabbing the ball from his opponents was the Aggie star, although Captain Richardson was the high scorer with 11 points. The clever basketball team from St. Louis university displayed by far the best basketball seen on the Aggie court the whole season in overturning the Aggies 35 to 28. Clever short passes and accurate shooting of Captain Oldfield, Strong and Joyce won approval of the Aggie fans. Richardson, Nigro, Russell, and Cronkite led the Aggie attack.

IN THE biggest upset of the entire season, the Kansas Aggies beat the Missouri Tigers 37 to 35 in an overtime battle on the Aggie court in one of the two reversals for the Tigers in their championship season. Trailing 17 to 7 at the half, the Aggies showed a revived spirit and came back in the final period to run up 30 points. The Aggies scored ten points in three minutes of play in the second half. It was Nigro, Russell, Richardson, and Freeman who did the work for the Aggies with Freeman caging the two winning baskets. The Wildcats gave the Jayhawks another scare at Lawrence when they battled them to a close 30 to 32 game which ended in the favor of the university team. The play of "Hoxie" Freeman was outstanding for the Aggies. The Wildcats handed one to Iowa State when they had an eight point lead with four minutes to go and lost to the Cyclones by a count of 25 to 24. The game was ragged throughout and the Aggies merely weakened in the final minutes to find themselves defeated when the game was over. Poor passing and inaccurate basket shooting by both teams caused the low score. Alex Nigro saved the day for the Aggies in the final game at Oklahoma when he went into the game with the Sooners one point ahead and figured in an 18 point rally, scoring nine points himself, for a 37 to 32 victory over the Sooners. Captain Clem Richardson was the high point scorer. Captain Tom Churchill of the Sooners again showed up well.

Freshman Basketball

A FRESHMAN basketball squad which gave the varsity much competition throughout the season was coached this year by Owen "Chili" Cochrane, a former Aggie athlete. Starting early in the season with a large squad, the men were gradually eliminated, until only fifteen of the most outstanding freshman basketekers remained. The freshmen are not only trained in the rudiments of basketball, but furnish good opposition for the varsity in their practices. Much good material was found during the season and many men show promise of being outstanding varsity players in the years to come.

Members of the squad to receive numerals were: H. L. Hasler, Eldorado; N. J. Weybrew, Wamego; A. Skradski, Kansas City, Kansas; L. H. Dalton, Fort Scott; D. P. Course, Abilene; W. Teichgraber, Osage City; E. F. Morrison, Coby; R. E. Teter, Eldorado; Lee Morgan, Hugoton; R. Smith, Manhattan; Glenn Harsh, El Dorado; E. R. Kennedy, Chase; H. A. Steiger, Menlo; and Jack Going, Topeka.

B. R. PATTERSON
Wrestling Coach

Wrestling

BUEL R. PATTERSON, in three years as coach of the Kansas Aggies, has placed the Wildcats far up the list in wrestling circles. Patterson, himself a national intercollegiate champion while attending school at the Oklahoma Aggies, has developed some outstanding wrestlers and is doing great work to develop wrestling in high schools throughout the state. He has sponsored an invitational meet here each year for high schools and this year was in charge of the state high school meet held here. The Aggie squad this season had a good year, finishing third in the individual Big Six meet held here, placing a man in every weight but the 165 pound class. Larger squads, making more competition for varsity positions, have led to stronger teams, and Coach Patterson's methods of handling his varsity men has led to better Kansas Aggie wrestling teams. C. H. McKibben, Kansas City, light-heavyweight wrestler, was captain this year, but because of injuries, was forced to quit early in the season. C. H. "Duke" Errington, Ruelton, third place winner in the heavyweight class in the National Intercollegiate and Big Six Champion for two years, will captain the Wildcat grapplers next season. With the loss of but two men and a large list of candidates coming on, a good squad is expected next season. Lettermen this year were: K. J. Latimer, Humboldt; Ben Barber, Alton; Joe Fickel, Chanute; Sam Alsop, Wakefield; John Warner, Whiting; George Long, Burlington and C. H. Errington, Ruelton.

THE Aggies lost their first dual meet of the season to Missouri by a score of $22\frac{1}{2}$ to $11\frac{1}{2}$. Aggie winners in this meet were Warner, who defeated Garrison in the 155 pound weight by a fall, and Errington, who defeated Blacklock in the heavyweight class by a fall. Fickel of the Aggies wrestled Moore of the Tigers to a draw in overtime periods of the 135 pound class. Barber of the Aggies threw himself in coming out of a hold in the 125 pound class. The Aggies won an easy victory over Kansas by a count of 23 to 9. Latimer won by decision in the 115 pound class, Fickel won by fall in the 135 pound class, Alsop won by fall in the 145 pound class, and Warner won by fall in the 155 pound class. Errington also won by fall in the heavyweight class. The three Aggie losses were by decisions and by narrow margins. Long of the Aggies, wrestling in place of Captain McKibben, gave Cochran a real battle but lost by decision. It was Sam Alsop's victory by fall that gave the Aggies a 14 to 12 victory over Nebraska as each squad took four matches. Latimer opened the evening with an overtime decision victory over Kosowki, but Webber of the Huskers evened the count with a decision over Barber. Fickel won a decision match from Reese and Alsop defeated Margaret by a fall in seven minutes. Simic won an overtime decision from Warner of the Aggies, and Chapman lost to Robertson in the 165 pound weight. Captain McKibben lost his light heavyweight match by decision to Hunt, but Errington won a decision from Keisselbach. When Errington lost his only match of the year, the Aggies lost a match to Iowa State by a score of 15 to 9. In attempting to win by a fall, Errington was caught by a body scissor and was unable to come out to win from the Cyclone heavyweight. Latimer, Alsop and Long won their matches by decisions; none of the matches were won by falls in this meet.

THE Aggies had little luck against the Oklahoma Aggies, intercollegiate champions, and fell by a score of 25 to 3, with Kenneth Latimer the only Wildcat to win. Latimer won a close decision over Costner, and all the rest of the Aggies lost by decisions, except Long in the light heavyweight and Errington in the heavyweight. Both lost to men who were national champions, Long to Caldwell and Errington to McCready, who is also a Canadian champion and Olympic representative. In an all-decision affair with the University of Oklahoma, the Aggies came out with but three points, Errington getting a decision from Mackie. All the rest of the Aggies lost by decisions. Two national champions were on the Oklahoma team. The Big Six individual tournament was held at Manhattan, and the Aggie team placed two Big Six champions, and got third place in the meet, placing a man in every weight except the 165 pound class. Latimer placed second in the 115 pound class, Barber third in the 125 pound class, Fickel was champion in the 135 pound weight, Alsop was third in the 145 pound class, Warner was third in the 155 pound class, Long tied for second in the 175 pound class, and Errington won the heavyweight title for the second consecutive season. Errington and Fickel represented the Aggies in the National Intercollegiate at Penn State college and took sixth place in the meet for the school. Both were eliminated in the semi-finals, Errington by McCready, the champion. The two Aggies won preliminary matches by falls and Errington got a fall in wrestling for third place in the heavy-weight class, which he won. Only one letterman will be lost by graduation this year, Latimer in the 115 pound class. Captain McKibben, forced to quit wrestling because of his health, will finish school. A strong squad is expected next season as there are a number of freshmen who were outstanding.

Winter Intramurals

THE first on the winter intramural program was indoor track which was followed by the basketball free throwing contest, wrestling and swimming. Boxing was eliminated from the list of intramural events this season because of the objection of many that suitable matches could not be arranged due to the inability to rank the boxers as to class. The Aggie Knights won the indoor track and field meet with 193/5 points. Sigma Nu was second with 14, Phi Sigma Kappa third with 13, and Phi Kappa Tau fourth with 10. Only one record fell in the meet when Ward Philip, Sigma Nu, dashed the quarter mile to break the old mark. Philip was the high point man of the meet getting another first in the 220 yard race. Kennedy, Beta Theta Pi, tied the 35 yard dash record and Henry, Aggie Knight, tied the pole vault record. Forsberg, Sigma Nu, won the basketball free throw contest, tossing 58 out of 75 attempts to beat Faulconer, Beta Theta Pi, who looped 55 of the 75. Walker, Sigma Nu, was third with 37 of 50 attempts good. At the end of their 50 shots, Forsberg and Faulconer were tied and an additional 25 shots were used in shooting the affair off.

Winter Intramurals

TEAM points in intramural wrestling showed the Sigma Nu organization in the lead, although they did not rate a champion. They scored 95 points, while Lambda Chi Alpha was second with 93 and Alpha Gamma Rho was third with 90. Independents played a large part in winning the championships, getting five of the eight awarded. Winners of the various weights were: 115 pound class, P. W. Griffith, independent; 125 pound class, C. A. Schubert, independent; 135 pound class, F. L. Tempero, independent; 145 pound class, J. Roberts, independent; 155 pound class, R. Smith, Delta Tau Delta; 165 pound class, L. Stoneking, Alpha Gamma Rho; 175 pound class, R. Gump, Phi Sigma Kappa; and heavyweight class, T. Rostocil, independent. Beta Theta Pi won the swimming contest although but two of their men were able to place. R. Spence, with firsts in the 40 yard free style and the fancy dive, and R. Rearwin with a first in the 220 yard free style and a second in the 100 yard free style, made a majority of the organization's points. The score was, Beta Theta Pi, 40; Phi Kappa Tau, 29; Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 26½. The only record to fall in the meet was the 220 free style. Rearwin, Beta Theta Pi, paddled the distance in 3:30.6 to beat the old mark of 3:32.4.

MOLL WEST PECK HANSON FOCKELE MALL LIVINGSTON LAMBERTSON RHOADES BUCKMASTER RIPPEY

Swimming

A YEAR ago swimming was revived as a minor sport at Kansas State, and although the Aggie swimmers failed to rank very high in individual events, relay teams proved to be point winners in the conference meet. Two dual meets were held by the Aggies this year, both with Nebraska. The Huskers were victorious, in the first by a 51 to 24 margin, and in the second by a score of 50 to 25. Coach C. S. Moll found it difficult to find swimmers who could nose out the strong Husker men.

Buckmaster was the only Aggie to win a first in the first dual meet with the Huskers and he captured the 40 and 100 yard free style events for ten of the 24 Aggie points. His time in the 100 yard race tied the Big Six record. Others who placed in the meet were: Schlotterbeck, a second in the fancy dive and breast stroke events; Rhoades, a third in the dive; Rippey, a third in the 440 yard free style; and Lambertson, a third in the 150 yard backstroke. Livingston also took third in the 40 yard event.

The only first against Nebraska in the second meet was won by Buckmaster, who took the 100 yard free style. Hanson took a second in the 440 yard free style, and Lambertson a second in the 150 yard back stroke. In the dive event, Buckmaster was second and Rhoades was third. Rhoades also got third in the 440 yard free style and Buckmaster won third in the 40 yard event. Fockele was third in the breast stroke. At the conference meet, the Aggies finished fourth. Nebraska won the meet, Iowa State was second, and Kansas was third. The Aggies placed third in the two relay events for the only places. All but one of the conference records fell at the meet, which was the fastest of the year.

Swimming lettermen were: A. D. Buckmaster, Manhattan; C. M. Rhoades, Newton; Gene Livingston, Hutchinson; Max Fockele, Ottawa; A. Lambertson, Fairview; and D. E. West, Hartford.

Van Zile Hall is the residence for college women on the campus. It has accommodations for 129 women. The hall is named for Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, who was influential in securing the building for K. S. A. C., and who did much to make it an ideal home for college women.

Inter-Society Council

THE Inter-Society Council was organized in order that the members of the several literary societies on the campus might be brought into a closer relationship with each other, with a mutual benefit resulting for all concerned. The principal activities of the Council are supervising contests of several kinds between the societies and stimulating interest in these contests.

The first contest to be held during the year on the Inter-Society program was that of Inter-Society debate. The societies this year were all represented by able teams, and the debates that were held were interesting and well planned. None of the debaters had ever participated in varsity debate or oratory. When the contest was finally finished, it was found that all of the organizations had lost at least one debate with the exception of the Webster society, which had been victorious in every case. The Webster team was composed of Arnold Chase and Louis Kovar. A silver loving cup was the prize for winning this contest.

Immediately after Christmas the Inter-Society activities were again revived, and the oratorical contest was held. Only six of the societies participated in this contest, two of the girl's organizations failing to make entries in the competition. Arnold E. Chase, Webster, was given first place by the judges. Second place was won by Rachel Lamprecht of the Ionian society, and Dan McLachlan won third place for the Athenian Literary Society. Other participants in the oratorical were Joe Fickel, representing Hamilton, N. O. Butler, Alpha Beta, and Mona Stoops, of the Franklin society.

The last of the program of the Inter-Society Council was the one act play contest, in which two societies joined forces and presented their dramatic ability. This contest has only been a part of the Inter-Society program for the past three years. Each year the plays presented have shown a greater degree of dramatic art, and have constantly improved in the matter of directing and staging. First place in the play contest was won by the Hamilton-Ionian combination, and second place among the five plays given was won by Browning-Athenian.

Since there are so few contests in which the societies may take part, no attempt is made to determine the final standings for the whole year. If final standings were made, however, certainly the Webster Literary Society would head the list. This society took first in the oratory and debate contests, and made a creditable showing in the one act play competition.

The Inter-Society Council is well satisfied with the interest taken in the past year, and in the quality of the work offered in the several contests.

Publicity

PUBLICITY for Kansas State Agricultural College is handled by four men, three of whom are members of the college faculty and one, a student. Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the English department, and Gene Charles and Russell Thackrey of the journalism department, are the faculty members engaged in advertising the school and the student member is Fred Seaton, director of publicity for the athletic department.

A news bureau is maintained in the journalism department, headed by Charles and Thackrey, which makes daily mailings over the state and to the larger papers of the country, concerning general news of the college and of the activities of the college students. In addition to this general service, a weekly mailing of "personals" is made to Kansas newspapers. These consist of small items about the activities of K. S. A. C. students from those towns.

The athletic department has gradually expanded its publicity department, inaugurated four years ago, until now it is one of the most complete and thorough in the Big Six conference. Seaton has been in charge for the past two years.

A daily mailing service of free news material is mailed to Kansas and Big Six dailies, and a weekly mailing service is maintained to all Kansas weeklies. Photos of the men engaged in the various sports are supplied free of charge to the larger papers and news cuts and mats are sent gratis to any paper wishing them.

Radio broadcasting of athletic contests was begun several years ago, but was thought to be interfering to some extent with attendance. Last season the basketball games were not broadcast. This year, however, the publicity department decided again to put the games on the air, and Prof. Davis and Seaton worked together in announcing the games. The accounts are broadcast over KSAC, the college's own station.

KAPPA OMEGON CHAPTER
216 NORTH TWENTY FIFTH
CORVALLIS, OREGON

Feb. 24, 1930

Mr. Chick Allison

The 1930 Royal Purple
Manhattan, Kansas

Dear Chick:

Well, the fire is over. We have completed the beauty judging, and hope it has been carried out in a satisfactory way.

I wish you could have been here to share our fun. I am sure every brother enjoyed this idea of yours, and that you certainly have some fair co-eds on your campus. Some of the fellows wanted to know if there was any way to secure their names and addresses. Especially the six that we selected.

As chosen by the members of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity who study diligently at the Oregon State College at Corvallis.

With many thanks from the editor!

WINTER WANDERINGS

Miss Vera Smith

Winter Queen

Of course there were parties and parties throughout the year; pictures of the good ones were the ones we tried to get. At the top can be seen the jolly crowd which attended the Winter Frolic, while at the left the students are just about to elect the Winter Queen. In the center, the Alpha Deltas and their boy friends are looking like a bunch of tough eggs from the Bowery, and what we mean is tough, not maybe. At the left below may be seen the first formal dinner party of the year, that given by Beauvais, and the two lower pictures on the page were taken at the fifth annual military ball.

The Manhattan Theatre brought to the college some of the newest and best stage plays during the year. Among them were "The Queen's Husband," "Young Woodley," and "Holiday." Above and at the bottom, Bill Johnson, versatile Negro boy, puts on some of the most finished amateur acting that was ever presented to a college audience here. The play was "The Emperor Jones." The other pictures are stage settings taken from "Holiday." At the right may be seen the genial director of the Theatre, H. Miles Heberer. "The 19th Hole," final production of the season, featured James Pratt, a Manhattan product and a wonder at light comedy.

The Aggie campus has a reputation for its beauty all over the central part of the country, and certainly this beauty was enhanced by the heaviest snow fall of the year. The pictures presented on this page were taken during this time, and if you fail to appreciate them, you certainly have no sympathy for the feet of the editor which were almost frozen while the pictures were being taken. Nevertheless it was worth the effort, and we have placed them here so that you may keep ever fresh in mind the scenes that must have thrilled you during the winter season.

The beauty of the campus by day is rivalled only by its sheer loveliness at night. Soft white snow took away hard lines, and transformed the entire campus into acres of diamonds. The north door of Anderson and the library from the northeast appear at the top. The recently completed power plant appears in the center, and at the right may be seen the feudal towers of Nichols gymnasium. At the right the lights and shadows of the Engineering building make a pleasing contrast, while below there are other views of Fairchild and the gymnasium.

The Phi Gams at Oregon are undoubtedly a good bunch of boys, but look at the wonderful opportunities they passed up on this page. Beginning at the upper left hand corner we find Isabelle Kaine, the representative of Beta Phi Alpha, Wamego; Vivian Abell, Van Zile hall, Riley, Saloma Davis, Delta Zeta, Carthage, Mo., Margaret Chaney, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Manhattan; Miriam Clammer, Pi Beta Phi, Manhattan; Jo Merryman, Alpha Xi Delta, Topeka, Mildred Osborn, Delta Delta Delta, Clifton; Lois Anderson, Delta Delta Delta, Byers, and Kathryn Gillihan, Pi Beta Phi, Gallatin, Mo.

The judges reported that they had a hard time placing the six most beautiful girls out of the great number of pictures sent to them, and anyone can see they were right by looking at this page. From left to right the girls are: Eldana Stewart, Kappa Delta, Eskridge; Norma Koons, Alpha Delta Pi, Sharon Springs; Rubv Nelson, Phi Omega Pi, Jamestown; Virgiline Hanes, Alpha Delta Pi, Augusta; Frances Larson, Beta Phi Alpha, Smolan; Mabel Ruthi, Van Zile hall, Bloomington; Frances Ellsworth, Chi Omega, Formoso, Eva Filson, Van Zile hall, Scott City; and Naomi Cook, Phi Omega Pi, Linn

That the Fee Gees are no gamblers is shown by the bets they passed up on this page. They congratulated all the girls on their good looks, and regretted that there were such few places to be awarded. The bets they missed: Johnnie Moore, Alpha Xi Delta, Minneola; Clare Wilson, Alpha Delta Pi, Onaga; Eleanor Laughead, Chi Omega, Dodge City; Helen Durham, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Manhattan; Elizabeth Smerchek, Beta Phi Alpha, Cleburne; Juanita Walker, Alpha Xi Delta, Valley Falls; Lillie Olson, Beta Phi Alpha, Manhattan; Sybil Parks, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Parsons; and Melba Doyle, Alpha Delta Pi, Eskridge.

CHARLES CORSAUT
Baseball Coach

CHARLES CORSAUT is recognized as one of the best college baseball coaches in the country and has developed for the Kansas Aggies some of the fastest baseball teams in the middle west. From a bunch of green material the Aggie mentor developed a conference champion two years ago and last season the Wildcats finished in a tie for second place. Corsaut's clubs are always known for their pep and fight and as a rule for their ability to work "hit and run" plays when a few scores are needed. The Wildcats found Nebraska the "hard nut to crack" throughout the season, and losses to the Huskers, who won the championship, were largely responsible for the Aggie down fall in the title race. Coach Corsaut has developed some college baseball players who have done well in the professional game and each year several of his seniors have offers from minor league scouts to play professional baseball. The great American game has proved itself to be one of the most popular sports for college students and large crowds attend the contests played on the Aggie field which is one of the best in the conference. Another good nine is expected this season and preliminary outlook shows that the squad should be as good as in recent years.

KIRK WARD
Captain, 1929

L. M. NASH
Captain, 1930

Baseball

MORE than one baseball game was won during the season of 1929 by the hard hitting of the capable captain, Kirk M. Ward, Elmdale. Ward, although small in stature, was one of the most consistent and hardest hitters on the Wildcat squad. A home run in the last inning from the bat of the Aggie captain won one ball game and his timely blows in other contests were also responsible for many runs. Ward played right field and came through with many thrilling catches as well as coming in behind the infield and throwing batters out on ground balls. Throughout part of the season Ward was the lead-off hitter, but later was put farther down because of his hitting power.

The leadership of the 1930 baseball team was placed in the hands of Loyle M. Nash, Long Island, probably the foremost third baseman in the conference. Nash played two seasons for the Aggies in the conference with but one error and handled many chances. He possesses a throwing arm equal to that of professionals and is exceptionally heady on his infield playing. At the bat, there was one thing certain—Nash would hit the ball. He was responsible for many of the Aggie hits and was to be dreaded by opposing pitchers in the pinches. Liked by his team mates and being a natural leader, Captain Nash is expected to lead the Wildcats through a successful season in 1930.

THE Kansas Aggies opened the season of 1929 with a 5 to 2 victory over the St. Marys Knights, the strongest of small college teams in the state of Kansas. The men coached by Steve O'Rourke gave the Wildcats a hard battle but a two base hit by Nigro with three on bases scoring three runs sewed the game up for the Wildcats in the fourth inning. Alex later scored on a wild pitch and the other Aggie run came as a result of a walk to Doyle who scored on hits by Ward and Meissingner. Seven errors, mostly by recruit infielders, cost the Aggies the pair of runs scored by the St. Marys team. Doyle, Barre and Freeman all did mound duty for the Wildcats. The second game with the Knights, to be played on the Aggie field, was called off because of wet weather. Just before the opening of the Big Six season with Kansas four regulars, Meissingner, McCollum, Evans, and Forsberg were quarantined for scarler fever, but were released the day before the game at Lawrence which the Aggies won 8 to 6. Ten walks by K. U. pitchers were costly and Alex Nigro showed his power at the bat by hitting a home run with one on in the fourth. Gilbert came to the rescue on the mound in the sixth and allowed but one more run when Freeman started failing. The hitting of Nigro, Captain Ward, and Nash were the features of the game. The Wildcat squad played tighter ball than they did against St. Marys.

AFTER piling up a four run lead in the first inning when Bob McCollum clouted a home run after the bases were loaded by poor Kansas fielding, the Aggies faltered and dropped the second Big Six game to Kansas by a score of 7 to 6. Barre was touched for 12 hits which were fairly well scattered, but Thomson for the Jay-hawks let the Aggies down with seven blows. Kansas scored their winning run in the seventh inning on errors and two hits. Barre pitched fair ball for the Aggies but did not receive team support in the pinches. Two games were scheduled with Wisconsin but a four day rain prevented the Badger nine from playing here. The Wisconsin team came here and stayed a day and a half but seeing that there was little chance for a game within several days, entrained for home. Captain Ward came to the Aggies rescue in the tenth inning of the opening game with Missouri on the home field and parked a home run over the right field fence for a 3 to 2 Aggie victory. All three of the Aggie runs were by home runs or fluke homers. McCollum hit one over the fence in the second and Ward circled the bases in the third when his single rolled through an outfielders legs. Barre, pitched for the Aggies and allowed nine hits while Geiselman for Missouri allowed but five, three going to Ward. Conger caught for the Aggies as Meissinger had a broken hand.

JUST to make the Missouri series complete, Towler pulled the hero stunt and stole home in the ninth inning to beat the Tigers 11 to 10 in the second game. Doyle and Freeman were hit hard but Gilbert came to the rescue in the fifth and saved the game. The game had been nip and tuck throughout and in the ninth inning Conger and Towler pulled a bit of base stealing strategy and caught the Tigers off guard when Towler swiped home. Towler and Evans were the hitting stars getting seven of the 14 hits. Let down to four hits by Pickett, the Aggies lost a tough one to Nebraska at Lincoln 3 to 2. Barre was pitching for the Wildcats and allowed four of the seven hits obtained by the Huskers in the ninth inning. He held them scoreless until the ninth when two singles, a triple, and another single scored three runs. The Aggies played errorless ball but were unable to hit the pitching of Pickett. Meissinger got two of the four hits. The next day Armatiss and Doyle staged a pitcher's dual at Lincoln and the Husker pitcher came out ahead, winning 1 to 0. In the fifth inning a walk, an error and a hit gave the Huskers the only run of the game. It was the only walk that Doyle gave in the entire game. Both teams got four hits and the Aggies made two errors to one for the Huskers, which aided in making it one of the closest games of the whole season.

WITH the Aggie sluggers smashing the ball for 13 hits, the Kansas Aggies found the Iowa State Cyclones an easy victory in the first of a slated two-game series, winning 7 to 1. Lande, visiting pitcher, knocked one "out of the park" for the first run in the fourth, but Nigro hit one "bigger and better" in the same inning with Nash on base to put the Aggies ahead. Towler then singled and rode home on Meissinger's triple, the catcher scoring on a wild throw. Barre pitched good ball for the Aggies and Meissinger, Ward, Nash, and Nigro were hitting stars. The second game with the Cyclones was called off because of a heavy rain. The Aggies lost their first battle with the Sooners because of errors. Six errors were made by the Aggies, two coming in the ninth when the winning run was scored without a hit being made off Barre. Ward scored first for the Aggies when he singled, stole second and third and came home on an infield out. Nigro doubled and went to third on a sacrifice and stole home in the fourth inning. Meissinger knocked the other two Aggie runs in. Doyle allowed but five hits to the Sooners in the second game but was pushed to win 5 to 4 because of four Aggie errors. The Sooners scored two runs in one inning without a hit. Four runs were scored in the first with singles by Ward, Meissinger, Nigro, Nash, and, Towler.

IN a comedy of errors and wild pitching, the Nebraska nine defeated the Aggies 8 to 7 in the first of a two-game series at home. Freeman started for the Aggies but gave way to Gilbert. Sloan and Pickett pitched for the Huskers. The two Aggie pitchers were nicked for 15 hits, but the six Aggie errors were largely responsible for the loss. The Aggies obtained but nine hits, most of them off Sloan, with Meissinger, Ward, and Nigro in the leading role. Nigro hit safely three times, one of them a double. Armatis of Nebraska staged another pitchers dual but this time against Barre of the Aggies instead of Doyle and lost a gruelling contest 1 to 0, the same score he won one at Lincoln. Barre allowed four hits to the Huskers with no two coming in the same inning, Armatis getting two of the hits himself and one a double. The winning run came in the fifth inning when Ward walked, stole second, took third on McCollum's single and scored on Barre's infield out. It was the only time in the game that either team put a man past second base. Getting seven strikeouts and letting but 31 Nebraska batters face him, Barre turned out probably the best pitched ball game ever put out by a Wildcat moundsman. Thrilling catches by Nigro and Ward in the outfield and by Nash on third aided in the victory.

THREE double plays by Aggie infielders came to the rescue of Barre in the first game of a home series with Kansas and the Aggies won 6 to 5 after being out-hit 12 to 7. Clever double plays in which Evans, Forsberg, Nash, Towler, and Meissinger were involved dealt misery to rallies by the Jayhawks. Four of the runs scored by Kansas came as a result of fluke home runs by Bishop and Fisher, when the balls hopped over McCollum and aided by a strong wind rolled far into the outer garden. Ward hit safely three times to lead the hitting attack and Towler hit a home run with one on base to help run up the total score for the Aggies. The second battle with the Jayhawks which was on the afternoon of Commencement day, was a crowning success as the Aggies pounded four Kansas pitchers for enough hits to score 17 runs to only 7 for the Jayhawks. Every Aggie except Doyle, the pitcher, obtained at least one hit and every player scored. Captain Ward, playing his last game, hit three times, one of them being a double. Nigro hit a home run with the bases full early in the game and McCollum and Towler hit for three bases.—Seeing that they were defeated, the Kansas team started clowning, but Aggie runs kept coming, and even Thomson was pounded from the mound by the hitting attack.

WARD HAYLETT
Track Coach

TRACK has been one sport that has been sadly neglected on the Kansas State roll of athletic achievements. The coming of Ward Haylett as head track coach last season brought about what looks like a revival of the sport. With almost no material, Coach Haylett is attempting to develop a good track team. Although slow in starting, track at Kansas State is on the way to success as the Aggies, although finishing last in the conference meet, scored twice as many points in the valley track meet. Never has Kansas State possessed a well balanced track squad but they have always had one or two stars, who could always be depended upon for a few points in a meet, no matter how fast the competition might be. Coach Haylett came to Kansas State from Doane college where he developed outstanding track teams in the Nebraska state conference, winning the title on two successive occasions. He has gone about developing track men by pushing the sport when the athletes are freshmen. With track material and competent coaches like Ward Haylett, this major sport at Kansas State is determined to be better within the near future.

TEMPLE F. "NURMI" WINBURN, De Kalb, Mo., was the leader of the 1929 track squad at Kansas State. Winburn was one of the outstanding middle distance runners in the conference, his outstanding performance being either in the quarter or half mile events. Winburn had better years at track during his sophomore and junior competition than he did in his last year, but he was a dependable runner and a very valuable man for the starting lap on relay fours. He was a member of the Aggie two mile relay team that has won fame for several years and also an outstanding cross country runner. During the year of 1930, Winburn has acted as an assistant coach in track and cross country.

Harold S. Miller, Kansas City, Kans., is one of the most outstanding middle distance and distance runners that has been in Kansas State in many seasons. Running any event from the quarter mile to the two-mile in near record time and pacing the five mile in the cross country at a pace near the leaders, Miller has been a favorite runner in nearly every meet. He consistently runs the mile in near 4:30 and does the half mile in less than two minutes on nearly every occasion. As the "iron man" of the Aggie squad, Miller has on several occasions ran the mile, two-mile and his lap in the relay, winning both of his individual events.

KANSAS AGGIE track and field men placed in every meet which they entered during the indoor season of 1929. Captain-elect H. S. Miller placed in the K. C. A. C. meet at Kansas City in the mile event, and George Lyon placed in the shot put. The Big Six conference indoor meet in 1929 was won by Oklahoma with 39 points, and Iowa State ranked second with 36. The Aggies were last, scoring $6\frac{1}{2}$ points, one half point behind the University of Missouri. "Babe" Lyon placed first in the shot put, with a heave of 45 feet, $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches. In the mile run Miller was fourth, and O. H. Walker tied for fourth in the high jump. At the Illinois relays Miller won second in the 1500 meter run, and Walker tied for fourth in the high jump. The only indoor dual meet of the season was at Lincoln with Nebraska, and the Wildcats lost by a score of $18\frac{1}{2}$ to $71\frac{1}{2}$. Miller of the Aggies won ten points with his two firsts, clipping off the mile in 4:36, and the two mile in 10:04.2. Nebraska made clean sweeps in the sixty and four forty yard dashes, and the high and low hurdles. Captain T. F. Winburn placed second in the half mile; Hugh Richwine tied for third in the pole vault; Lyon won second in the shot put and Walker tied for fourth in the jump high.

IN THE first outdoor meets of the season, the two Texas events, Aggies did not do so well. In the Texas relays at Austin, Lyon placed fourth in the shot put, and at the Southern Methodist relays at Dallas, a two-mile relay team placed fourth. At the Drake relays held at Des Moines, "Bud" Smith placed fourth in the javelin event. At the Kansas relays at Lawrence, Miller placed fourth in the 3000 meter run, and a four-mile relay team placed fourth in the four mile event. In a dual outdoor meet with the University of Oklahoma, the Aggies finished with 33 points with the Sooners marking up 98. Clean sweeps of three places were scored in the two dash events, but Winburn placed second in the four forty dash. Miller tied for second in the half mile and placed second in the mile behind Will of the Aggies. Miller also won the two-mile event. Yeager placed third in the high and low hurdles, and Lyon placed second in the shot and third in the discus. "Bud" Smith won the javelin throw, setting a new Aggie record of 184 feet, 8 inches. Livingston of the Aggies was second. Walker of the Aggies was second in the high jump, and the Aggie relay team was defeated.

A DUAL meet with the University of Kansas at Manhattan in May was another defeat for the Aggie cinder path men, the Jayhawkers winning by a score of 92 to 39. Kansas made a clean sweep of the 100 and 220 events. In the mile, Miller of the Aggies was first and L. A. Will third, Miller running the eight furlongs in 4:33. "Jim" Yeager placed second in the high hurdles and Walker was third for the Aggies. Captain Winburn was second in the quarter mile and third in the half mile event. In the two mile, Miller was third. Holt of the Aggies placed third in the low hurdles. Walker of the Aggies won third in the high jump. In the shot put, "Babe" Lyon broke the Aggie record with a heave of 47 feet, six and one quarter inches. Smith got third. Livingston was third in the pole vault, and Lyon threw the discus 135 feet to win this event, with Hinkle third. In the broad jump, Kansas made a clean sweep and the Aggies swept the javelin, with Livingston winning first, "Clem" Richardson second, and "Bud" Smith third. Lyon and Jones were the high point men with ten points each. Lyon won the shot and discus, while Jones won the 100 and 440 events.

THE Nebraska outdoor track victory over the Aggies was not so large as the indoor victory, but was by a big majority of 118 points to 29. One of the outstanding features was the mile run which was won by Miller in 4:29.1, which was very good time. Miller took second in the two mile. In the discus the Aggies scored a clean sweep, Lyon winning first and Hinkle second. Smith of the Aggies took second in the javelin throw, and Walker scored a second in the high jump. The Aggies failed to place in the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes, the half mile run, the high and low hurdles, and the broad jump and pole vault. Lyon won the shot put. In the Big Six outdoor meet the Aggies took 19½ points, with no place higher than a second. Lyon was second in the discus throw, which was won by Howell, Oklahoma, and fourth in the shot put. In the mile run Miller placed second, losing to Hoak, Iowa State. Walker tied for third in the high jump. Two Aggies placed in the javelin throw, Livingston taking second and Smith fourth place. Hinkle placed fifth in the discus throw. A four mile relay team composed of Winburn, Nutter, Kopf and Miller placed fourth in the event. The meet was very fast, one world's record being tied, and two meet records broken.

THE first indoor meet of the 1930 season was the K. C. A. C. indoor affair in Convention hall at Kansas City. Lee Toadvine of the Aggies took second in the open two mile, losing to Dawson of Oklahoma. Milton Ehrlich, Aggies, took second in the high jump, leaping 6 feet, 1½ inches. In the two mile relay Iowa State was first, and the Wildcats placed second. "Wallie" Frosberg placed fourth in the 660 yard Shannon-Douglas Cup race. In the dual indoor meet with Kansas at Kansas City, the Aggies scored but 30 points to 55 for the Jayhawkers. Kansas swept the 50 yard event, and Kopf and Elwell swept the 440 yard run to make the dashes a split. Kansas took the half mile, but Miller of the Aggies won the mile run. Fornelli placed second in the high hurdles, and Hinckley was second in the low hurdles. Ehrlich lost the high jump to Stillman of Kansas, who leaped 6 feet, one-eighth inch. Jordan placed second in the pole vault, and Kansas won the mile relay. Outstanding times of the meet were: 2:02.4 in the half mile by Hinshaw of Kansas, and 4:33.7 in the mile by Captain Miller of the Aggies. The pole vault, in which Trueblood of Kansas made a mark of 12 feet four inches, and the high jump, were also good events.

A DUAL meet with Missouri went to the Tigers by a count of 33 to 71 in the second indoor affair of the 1930 season. Kopf of the Aggies was third in the quarter mile, and Dutton placed second and Forsberg third in the half mile event. Toadvine was first and Captain Miller second in the two mile run. The hurdle races were clean sweeps for Missouri. Gladden of Missouri defeated Cronkite of the Aggies by one fourth of an inch in the shot put, winning with a heave of 41 feet, 13 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches. Ehrlich was first in the high jump and Walker third. Ehrlich jumped 6 feet, three fourths inch. Bliss was second and Elwell third in the broad jump, while Jordan and Vohs of the Aggies tied with a Tiger for first in the pole vault. Only three Aggies were able to place in the Big Six indoor meet, getting last place with a total of seven points. Captain Miller placed third in the mile and Toadvine was second to Dawson of Oklahoma in the two mile run. Ehrlich won second in the high jump, being defeated by Shelby of Oklahoma. At the last indoor meet of the year, the Illinois relays at Urbana, an Aggie four mile relay team composed of Miller, Toadvine, Carter, and Forsberg, placed fourth. Milton Ehrlich tied for fourth in the high jump, and Black placed seventh in the open 1000 yard run.

Tennis

KANSAS Aggie tennis players won 16 of their 64 matches in both doubles and singles last spring. The squad was handicapped by the return of only one veteran, Kermit Silverwood, who carried the brunt of the burden throughout the season. E. H. Bredehoft was Silverwood's team mate in the first team doubles matches and was the other singles entry. The Aggies opened the season against Friends, losing four and winning two, Silverwood and Bredehoft winning in the singles. Iowa made a clean sweep over the Aggies in two singles and doubles match in the second appearance in competition. Against Iowa State, Silverwood won the only victory in two singles and a doubles match. Silverwood won the only match against Missouri in five matches played at Columbia. Again the Aggie captain proved himself the best when he defeated Gsell of Kansas for the only victory in six matches against the Jayhawks in a series played on the college courts. His victory over Hambleton at Washburn in Topeka was the only Wildcat victory in six matches. Oklahoma "white-washed" the Wildcats winning all six matches in competition here. The first Aggie victory of the season was by a 2 to 1 majority over Baker with Silverwood and Bredehoft both winning singles matches. They lost the doubles affair. A 3 to 3 tie was played with Nebraska when Silverwood and Bredehoft won in the singles and were also victorious in the doubles while Worthy, Kipp, and Hollingsworth lost singles and doubles matches. Drake easily defeated the Aggies winning by a 3 to 0 score in a series played here late in the season. Washburn scored another 4 to 2 triumph, with Silverwood and Bredehoft both winning singles affairs. Another tie match was played with Oklahoma City University, each team winning three matches. The Jayhawks scored a clean sweep over the Wildcats at Kansas in the season final, winning 6 to 0.

Golf

ALTHOUGH the Kansas Aggie golf team lost but three of ten matches in the 1929 season, it was the worst showing they had made for five years, because it was the first time in that period they had ever met defeat. Losses were to Wichita university, Kansas City, Missouri, junior college, and Washburn.

Dale Lott had the low average for the season with 74.15 for 18 holes. Gene Holmberg with 75.15, Gerald Smith with 75.7, and Ben Remick with 77.3 were the other Aggie players.

The Aggies opened with a 5 to 1 win over St. Marys, as Remick took six strokes off par on a 72 course. The team average was one under par. In a return match with St. Marys here the Aggies scored a 6 to 0 victory with Remick and Lott as low scorers. A two-man Aggie team composed of Remick and Lott defeated a Baker team 3 to 0 with both Aggies shooting under par on the local course. The Aggies defeated Wichita 6 to 0 on the country club course at Manhattan, with all Aggies under the 69 mark. Holmberg and Smith scored a 2 to 1 victory over Kansas City junior college, losing the doubles match.

The first loss in five years for the Aggies came at Washburn where they were downed by a count of $9\frac{1}{2}$ to $8\frac{1}{2}$. The matches were very close throughout. On the home course, the Aggies triumphed over the Washburn squad $13\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$. Smith and Holmberg defeated the Kansas City junior college pair again 2 to 1 later in the season.

In two doubles matches, Missouri tied the Aggies 3 to 3 at Columbia. Jackson, Kansas City, Missouri, city champion, and Ballou, runner-up, defeated the Aggies 6 to 3 at Kansas City. Lott won his singles against Ballou. The Wildcats defeated Missouri by a 6 to 0 score over the local course late in May with all the scores for the Wildcats being low. The last match of the season went to Wichita by a score of 12 to 5. Lott and Remick won the Aggie points.

Spring Intramurals

SPRING intramural sports are not completed until late in the season and consist of baseball, outdoor track, tennis and handball. The results of the spring contests in the season of 1929 will be listed, the ones for the season of 1930 not yet being completed. For the second straight year, Phi Sigma Kappa won the baseball crown with Lambda Chi Alpha second. Members of the Phi Sigma Kappa team were A. M. Meyers, H. Karr, E. Mayden, H. Hyde, Schrader, R. Walker, H. Weller, B. Pearson, E. Auker, R. Vohs.

N. T. Dunlap, Phi Kappa Tau, was the winner of the handball singles, and E. L. Grafel, independent, was runner-up. In the doubles E. L. Grafel, and J. E. Smith, independents triumphed over Dunlap and Brandenburg, Phi Kappa Tau, in the finals to win the crown.

W. Grigg, Sigma Nu, won the Tennis singles championship, defeating E. Rector. Grigg and McCollum, Sigma Nu, won the doubles from Treaster and Scott, Omega Tau Epsilon.

Lambda Chi Alpha won the outdoor track meet, Phi Kappa Tau was second. W. Cox, Lambda Chi Alpha, tied the 100 yard dash record; H. Bagley, independent, broke the broad jump record, and M. Ehrlich, Phi Delta Theta, broke the high jump record. H. Cronkite, Alpha Tau Omega, broke both the shot and discus records.

Spring Intramurals

STARTING with only basketball in 1921, activities in intramural events have increased to a large extent since that time. Now twelve sports are in the field. Much interest and rivalry between organizations has been caused by intramurals and they are doing a fine thing to aid in the spirit producing and physical development of the students at K. S. A. C. It is the plan of the intramural director, Prof. L. P. Washburn, to get as many students as possible interested in intramural athletics and along with points for placing, entry points and participation points are also awarded. Each year the high point winners are awarded letters on sweaters. Ten of these are awarded and ten others receive the letters. F. B. Prentup, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and N. T. Lindbloom, Omega Tau Epsilon, tied for the high point honors last year. Others to receive sweaters were: R. B. Smith, Lambda Chi Alpha; H. A. Elwell, Phi Kappa Tau; N. T. Dunlap, Phi Kappa Tau; J. L. Scott, Omega Tau Epsilon; H. G. Bobst, Lambda Chi Alpha; L. G. Burghart, Phi Kappa Tau; A. C. Hadley, Sigma Phi Sigma; and W. K. Grigg, Sigma Nu.

ELEVEN men, believing that there was a need for an organization among non-fraternity men on the campus, met on Wednesday, September 25, 1929, in C-26, to discuss this need. Alton "Tex" Ryon was the leader of the movement.

Not much was accomplished at the first meeting, but at the second meeting '45 men were present. Much enthusiasm was aroused, and the men chose to call themselves the "Black Shirts" and to stand for democracy in its fullest meaning for the student body at Kansas State.

Thus were the non-fraternity men organized. After a little while, however, enthusiasm died down. There was some objection to the name, to the method of governing the organization, and to the spirit of some of the leaders regarding social fraternities. These leaders and a few others, realizing the actual need for the organization and the good it had accomplished, did not desire to let it die out, so they reorganized.

Keeping the original objective of the group as its fundamental purpose, a constitution and by-laws were drawn up and a new name adopted. At once new members joined the club and new life sprang up in the "Aggie Knights." Friendly to fraternities, this became the organization through which non-fraternity men take part in school politics and government, intramural athletics, and general student social activities. During the first semester the membership of the club numbered 69. After reorganization 18 new members were added.

Engineer's Open House

OPEN House has become an annual event, when the engineers receive guests and show them something of the work done in each of the departments of the engineering division. Interesting and instructive displays are made.

The first open house was held in 1920, at the request of the Farm and Home Week committee. Each year the open house programs have been interesting, but much the same as those of preceding years. Beginning in 1929, open house was made a separate affair. The usual program was enlarged to include an engineer's chapel, St. Pat's Prom, and a night display. A feature of St. Pat's Prom was the election of Chas. L. Brainard as the most representative engineer. This is an honor which is conferred annually.

The Friars

THE Friars, an organization for senior men, in which membership is based upon scholarship, leadership and service to the school, was formed at Kansas State in January, 1930. In the spring of each year, the organization will name eleven junior men who will compose the group the following year. These will be named at an impressive ceremony held during senior week—a week in which the Friars plan to take an active interest.

THE animal husbandry meat judging team, coached by Prof. D. L. Mackintosh, represented the school in only one contest. This was the national intercollegiate judging contest held at Kansas City at the American Royal Stock Show.

Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Nebraska, Pennsylvania and Kansas were the schools entered, Kansas placing second with a close score.

M. L. Cox of K. S. A. C. placed second to the highest individual scorer by the narrow margin of one point. The Kansas team placed third as judges of beef and lamb and were the second best judges of pork.

The 1930 Royal Purple

THE Royal Purple had its beginning in 1908, when it appeared as a small class book. Since that time it has had a steady growth, until now it is equal in size to any year book published in a school of this kind.

The 1930 Royal Purple is the first to be issued under the direction of the Board of Directors, which was created by an action of the S. G. A. in February, 1929. Needless to say, the advice and help received from Prof. Davis, chairman of the Board, and Prof. Keith, has been invaluable to the staff.

Nearly all of the individual portraits which appear in this book are the product of Arthur O. Browne. Additional pictures were taken by the Hixon studio, the Lisk Twins studio, Prof. E. T. Keith, and F. J. Hanna, of the college illustrations department. The campus views were made by F. E. Colburn, former head of the department of illustrations.

THE campus view section of this book was made possible by the original oil paintings by Herbert J. Demmin. Mr. Demmin's familiarity with the Aggie campus, and his love for it, added warmth to his work. The crayon sketches were the work of Glen Golton.

John Coleman was assisted in the management of financial affairs by R. C. Riepe. Although his work was of an intangible nature, it played an important part in the success of the book. Special recognition is given to Earl C. Richardson, assistant editor, who spent much time preparing copy for the athletic sections. Since these are very popular portions of the Royal Purple, a great deal of credit is due Mr. Richardson's work.

Other staff members whose pictures were not available were Alvin Crooke, who handled the administration section, and La Verne Huse, who did extensive stenographic work for the editor and business manager.

Royal Purple Board

IN FEBRUARY, 1929, the Student Governing Association of Kansas State Agricultural College moved to assume control of the Royal Purple by creating a Board of Directors to have general charge of the publication.

This Board of Directors, consisting of three students selected annually in March for the year following and two faculty members chosen by the college president, names two candidates for each staff office, makes rules and regulations for issuing the annual, allows contracts, and has power of dismissal over unsatisfactory staff members.

For the year 1929-1930 the board consisted of H. W. Davis, professor of English, and E. T. Keith, superintendent of printing, as faculty members, and James Yeager, Helen Sloan, and Frank Condell as student members.

The purpose of all-school control of the annual is to make the Royal Purple truly and distinctly representative of the whole college—freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and graduate students, and to encourage the active participation by all departments and all student groups in its publication.

SPRING ZEPHYRS

Miss Cora Stout

K Fraternity initiates catch a little on this page with eggs, castor oil, and onions. The Mortar and Ball initiates pronounce a benediction on the Infantry. At the right Shorty Miller gets ready to promote another fight for some of his boys, who are: Patton, at the upper right, and Thompson, to the right of Miller. At the bottom are the entries in the amateur tournament at Salina in February. From left to right they are: Kid Bauman, K. O. Coleman, Socko Dillard, Bad Man Jones, and Dynamite Haney. Haney won the championship in the featherweight class and Coleman came home with the welterweight crown.

Seniors, led by the president and the faculty, march with measured tread toward the auditorium where they will receive the start on their long, long journey through life. These pictures were taken as the 1929 class was led to the galleys. Several of the oldest living college students in school were ground out at this commencement exercise. At the left, Flor Zapata and his Troubadours pose with their stringed instruments. They are, from left to right: Francisco Taberner, Abraham Asis, Francisco Asis, and Flor B. Zapata, all natives of the Philippine Islands.

Here are a few snapshots from the 1929 baseball season. At the top Hank Barre slips in a fast one, while just below Nigro scores in the Kansas game. At the upper right Meissinger picks one of Barre's pitches out of the dirt, and at the left Nigro puts a high one into the power plant. In the center, an Aggie batter knocks a high fly ball far into the outer districts, and just below is pictured an exciting play at home base in the Kansas game. Below, Mickey Evans gives the left fielder a little exercise when he knocks a hot one down the third base line.

Gleaner BALDWIN
COMBINES

The Gleaner Baldwin Combine is the machine for modern farmers, because it SAVES TIME—SAVES GRAIN—SAVES LABOR and therefore, makes greater profits from grain growing certain.

The Gleaner Baldwin Combine is lighter in weight, costs less to buy and to operate, saves more grain under more conditions, is better built, provides greater threshing capacity per inch of threshing cylinder, greater separating capacity per pound of weight and per foot of cutter bar.

These points of superiority in the Gleaner Baldwin Combine, are made possible because of modern design and precise construction. It's a real dollars-and-cents profit you get in this modern machine.

The Gleaner Combine Harvester Corporation now supplies, in addition to the Gleaner Baldwin Combine, a Windrow Harvester and Pick-Up Attachment, Gleaner Green Top Grain Bins and Gleaco Hammer-type Feed Grinders.

There is a Gleaner Baldwin dealer near your home. It will pay you to see him.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Snorts and Hee Haws

IN HIS ramblings around the village, certain events and happenings have come to the attention of the correspondent which are here recorded for the benefit of those who may be interested in all goings on.

The latest matter of interest that has come to light is the disputed addition to the Kappa chapter. Many pros and cons have been offered, but the facts are these. On or about April 2, a "blessed event" came to pass and Mrs. Erlene Taylor, the Kappa cook, became the mother of a fine bouncing nine-pound baby boy, her fifth child. Mrs. Taylor has been preparing the salads and peanut butter sandwiches at the Kappa house for some two years running now, and the girls were therefore very much interested in the child, especially in the matter of giving him a name.

A personal trip was made to the home by a number of the girls and when they returned to the house there was deep consultation and much thought.

Ruth Emrich finally became the arbitrator of the little group. She suggested a combination—a gathering together of all the suggested names, thus making an all inclusive, well rounded name, although one that might be a little unwieldy because of its length.

So the name became Jessie James Arthur Taylor. Jessie was captured from that faithful Kappa friend, Jess Woods. James came from the two staunch Kappa supporters, James Pratt and James Amis. Arthur owes its derivation to the name of that undying Kappa booster and lover, Arthur Everett.

This correspondent, in his investigation of the matter, found that James Pratt had left for Chicago the evening before the event came to pass. James Amis has not been in the village since the beginning of the second semester. So only these two, Jess and Arthur, were left to bear the brunt of the many titterings that passed from mouth to mouth those few days.

To shorten the identification and still preserve the full significance of the name, the baby has been called "Sigma Nu Baby." At the last report, mother and child were doing nicely.

It is our patriotic duty to warn all residents and future citizens of K. S. A. C. about the ancestry of one of the leading fraternities on our campus, and we might as well add right here that they are leading in a number of little incidents. On the twenty-second of February (and this isn't a story of George and his hatchet), Beta Theta Pi holds its annual dinner with the pigs. You might say, that this is just sort of a family reunion, where old songs can be resung and old grunts can be regrunted. We feel that above all things that this bit of news should reach all of those who are regarded now, as possible and probable Betas, so that they have an opportunity to know just what sort of a pen they are getting into.

"You all can open the letter," said the Kappa from Oklahoma to her sister from Arkansasaw, "there's a chance that it may contain something important."

"We direct our sales only to the biggest organizations, and feel that you would be interested in the plan we have to offer," the letter read. "I wonder if it's a set of books or a piano they're trying to sell us this time?" "Read on Oklahoma."

"In order to present this plan to you fairly, a salesman will call on you in a few days and is desirous of having the entire group assembled for a short meeting."

The salesman called. In the few days that had elapsed between the time of the letter and the anticipated visit, the letter had been posted and excitement "ragged." The salesman's first words were a request that the girls come outside and see his wares. And there it was, complete in every respect, not a thing missing; the newest and most fashionable model in milking machines!

A dark gentleman, who spends a great deal of his time at the house at the corner of sixteenth and Fairchild, often called on a dark miss, who spends the greater part of her time at a house on Sixteenth street. Certainly it wasn't a little child or children that led them this time. What we really mean is that the proper start was given the Alpha Xi Deltas and the Sigma Alpha Epsilons, when the negro boy that works for the Sig Alphas became devoted to the girl who is maid at the Alpha Xi house. Since the first romance started, three others followed in rather rapid succession. In the case of the first pin, it took an A. T. O. to wake the boy up. In the second case, and really probably the most exciting of all, an event occurred soon after a trip to Georgia, which both parties enjoyed. It has been rumored that one half of the romance desired to put on the pin before returning to Manhattan, but she didn't have the chance.

Kappa Sigma seems to have made up their mind that they are going to make a place on the hill for themselves, one way or another, and they don't seem to care, whether this place is famous or notorious. A few members and the annual Roughneck party event have somewhat successfully achieved this latter distinction.

In good old Kappa Sigma language, the party was a "fair go" and "plenty slick." It seems to be their idea of an honor because they delight in broadcasting the fact that they "nearly got kicked out of school."

Cheer up little boys, maybe there will come a time, when you can really do something naughty, so that your conversations won't have to be day dreams, and Dean and Prexy will make it "Plenty Hot" for you.

WHILE a New Yorker section might be considered as an influence of levity and mirth, it is also wise and well and kindly, girls and boys, that it should evaluate the more ethereal things of life.

Let us perchance and forsooth, friends, look into the development of the Better Things at Kansas State. What could be more direct than to glimpse the devotional leader of one of the classes, say the seniors during the second semester?

This person is none other than James Pratt, a quiet, unobtrusive sort of chap, conservative in speech and manner almost to the point of frigidity.

As he trudges in slow pace about the campus, one can almost visualize him in the black robes of a monk, treading softly through dark corridors and dim doorways, starting little candle fires and droning vague incantations in the half-light of some old cathedral.

"Jim" as the devout is called by his classmates, has a mission. He dramatizes for his fellows the lives of men seldom associated with the college life. And he enlightens his followers with a new story every day . . . Even the Brown Bull couldn't print it.

JOHN is a typical student in general science, that is if any student in general science can ever be typical or even half-typical in these days, with good liquor selling so high.

But to resort to the discussion. John is saving a little missive which he received through the college post office the first semester. It is a quaint letter, and he has tied it with blue ribbon in a package containing snapshots of the girls back home and a picture of three violets taken at sunrise.

And every few days John undoes the pale blue ribbon, gazes at the snapshots, waters the little violets with tears from his dew-rimmed eyes, and then unfolds the letter and sits down to read once more that sweet message of hope and confidence. Once more his courage is renewed, and inspired by the cordiality of the letter, he is once more a man.

In case you, reader, have parted with the little message of cordial inspiration which every general science student received, the New Yorker section wishes to quote a few paragraphs to which you may return ever and anon for that friendly feeling, as did that typical boy John, or Jake or Ike, or whatever his name was in paragraph one.

From the letter: ". . . We always have with us a small percentage of students who habitually neglect college duties and who attempt to excuse this by allegations of very doubtful validity.

On page 88 of the catalogue the following paragraph occurs:

'Any student who is found to be persistently inattentive to his college work is at once temporarily suspended by his dean, and reported to the President for permanent suspension . . .'

This is to warn all students in the Division of General Science, who are not here for the purpose of giving serious attention to college work and who are habitually absent or tardy in respect to attendance, who allege illness when the condition of their health interferes with nothing but college work, that they will be promptly suspended when conditions seem to justify it and be allowed to make their explanations afterwards. The college is a pleasant place to be but its primary purpose still is consistent and regular attention to the subjects to which the student is assigned.

Yours most cordially,

Anti-Kimball Election

Who gets the Pic, you or I or Beta Theta Pi?

Who gets the ——— you or I or Solon Kimball?

For three years it was thought by a few people on the hill that the Theodoric party had been created so that the Betas and Kimball could make use of their Pi Kappa Delta ability. And then in the still of the night "The Voice" came to Zek Richardson and said that the Power of Theodoric should be no more. The next day he called those who he knew had assumed, some time before the "no more Kimball attitude." Sunday the Pi Phis were honored with a meeting at which "the Voice" presided. It is interesting to note that all the Greeks of Fairchild Avenue were there and the Betas were seriously considering some new neighbors. But to go on with the election. The most interesting feature of the Betas was the Gum campaign which they so religiously conducted. One of the boys sisters, who works at Kresses won the sticky stuff at a recent gum-chewing orgy. But try as they could they couldn't "stick" it out.

The Chi Omega—Pi Phi Basketball Game

The Chio quintet overwhelmed the Pi Phi team last night by a close score of 14-15 after being extended to 15 extra rest periods to give the lucky strickers and fatima girls enough time out to finish the game.

The game was fast from the very start, and kept the crowd in a uproar during the entire fracas. As many as seven spectators were in the gymnasium at the time.

Little "Pil" Havley, Chio forward, brought the crowd to its feet when she ran the full length of the court without stopping once. Sparr also made a nice run but the play didn't count, for the referee had already blown his whistle for tea.

VISITOR: "And what is this odd odor on your campus?"

STUDE: "Oh, just some agriculturalist close about."

YOU CAN'T PARK ON THE CAMPUS ROARED ROTHBERT, harshly.

"But janitor," came back the pulchritudinous Polly, "surely you will allow me to leave my machine for the once on these confines. Must I become so frightfully frank as to explain that my gown was enmeshed in the gears and now scarcely covers my ankles, so that I must ride as near the classroom as possible?"

"And as for any possible rasping of the mechanism which might disturb students, I have checkmated you on that. Every tippie, every tholepin and every cotter key I have lubricated with an oil from the very center of this year's gusher, the cream of the crop. Can you longer resist me?" concluded Polly, the willing victim of a thousand affairs.

"Nay, nay," chortled the villainous Rothbert, "I can not resist you, but by all means get that machine off the campus. We janitors of Kansas State have a reputation for being hardhearted, and I can be no traitor to tradition. "You can not park here!"

... He sprawled face forward on the gravelly driveway. Pretty Polly had punctured his ego with a ball from the musket she carried in the inside pocket for just such emergencies.

The Kappa Who Had Rheumatism

One of the drollest tales of the year is told concerning a Kappa.

Suffering from a severe-in-one-so-young attack of rheumatism, she was indeed in a bad way. The sisters had placed her in a private bed, occupied by only 16 others, and were giving her all of the attention they could muster.

Even then her pain was almost unbearable. The college medic was consulted, and advised hot water bottles and perfect quiet. The girls took his advice in the best possible way, and put ice packs on the poor child, pummeled her torso thoroughly, and played the radio.

Still there was little change. Every movement became an agony to the girl lying there in the white-walled room, looking at the picture of the Madonna and child above the foot of her bed. At every vibration of the floor her face twinged as racking pains rent her beautiful body. It seemed that this could not go on long. She would be forced to give up her secluded scholarly life and go over where her grandparents and baby sister seemed to be waiting with outstretched arms.

Close by the bedside was a somber black instrument. It jingled and one of the girls answered. A foolish Sigma Nu had called for a date with the rheumatic Kappa. She roused sufficiently to understand.

"Tell him" she whispered, "Tell him that I have rheumatism," and she sank back on the pillow.

That night as the dark of evening hushed over the Kappa house, and the pale moon shone wanly in the heavens, she passed out of the front door and went to the varisty with another man. The Sigma Nu saw her at the hall, dancing very torpidly, and he found it hard to believe that she had been suffering from rheumatism. Her recovery had almost been incredible.

Editor's Note: This space, or one just like it, is devoted to our readers who may be livestock or poultry fanciers. Dr. Zilch is noted for his animal analyses. Anyone bothered with pre-war stock should confer at once with this specialist.

DEAR ZILCH: This is a photograph showing my mascot, the Jayhawk. He is in a very droopy condition. Can you suggest any possible succor?

Lawrence.

DEAR LAWRENCE: There are several succors I might suggest. Why try to keep this pest alive, anyway? Is your "insurance" questionable? I note that most of the thatch on this mutt is missing. If it has been clipped, the fact might explain his weakness. (Remember what Delilah did.)

Z.

DR. WHIRK ZILCH: Here is a picture of my tiger which has been a constant anxiety to me in past years. He assumes this position all the time. What can the matter be?

M. U.

DEAR M. U.: The picture of your tiger shows that he is lying down. Try calling him Phainting Phil to see if he responds. Or Lon Chaney. From the lankness of your cat, it would seem that something was missing. Perhaps there are too many fiddle players on the Big Six. Zilch, D. V. M.

Theatre goes sitting before a Vitaphone production hearing and seeing its marvels unfolded before them on the screen give heed not only to the ultimate result holding them enthralled. They are entertained and amused as the elements of drama, music and comedy come to their ears and eyes through the medium developed and brought to perfection by the Warner Bros.

Sound pictures have come to stay and thus is fulfilled the hopes of hundreds of Miller theatre patrons. Sound pictures are the outgrowth of the radio, and actually represent wedding of the radio and the movie, bringing with it the greatest type of entertainment the world has yet had.

Each theatre has a distinct influence in the civic life of the community. Each striving with every facility at its command for better pictures, each serving the public, each bringing good cheer and happiness.

Code of Ethics

Professor C. E. Rogers, head of Department of Journalism, is writing a book. What the name of the book is or what is contained other than on the first page is of little interest to the readers. On the first page, the head has set forth what he considers to be prerequisites for journalism, and it is that which we wish to impart to you.

Prerequisites for Journalism

1. All exams must be taken during a small riot that has been especially imported for the occasion. (McKinney and Schmidler being the riot.)
2. Learn to take a squelching as well as give one.
3. Scent gossip before it happens.
4. Only the "hide and seek" method of typewriting is permitted. All machines are worked by invisible pedals.
5. Develop a handwriting that can be read only by you.
6. Be able to pass a post-graduate course in bluffing.
7. Greatest of these, be able to answer not more than two questions on a Days News test.
8. Make up your mind that you'll only get a D in Advertising and that you'll be called a "sissy" if you get above a C in anything else.

"TELL ME, MY MAN, WERE YOU BADLY LACERATED
IN THIS UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT?"

"YEH, AND I WAS ALL CUT UP, TOO."

Furnishing Fraternities

Whether the requirements call simply for refurnishing, or the designing and installing of a complete interior, the experienced care and skill exercised to achieve the most artistic effect—unswerving reliability of price—and completeness of service—have created widespread confidence in our ability, merchandise and methods.

We cordially invite consultation regarding your decorative problems however small or large they may be. Every modern facility is at your service for furnishing the most simple or elaborate fraternity house or home . . . artistically and economically.

Pep

Pi Epsilon Pi was founded at Malaria Crossing, Mississippi, by a crew of shell-shocked civil war deserters who had nothing better to do and were bordering on melancholia. This year most of the members had a bad case of it. (Not Elinor Glynn's kind). The identity of the order was temporarily lost during the guerrilla warfare that raged in the south at that time, but after the smoke had cleared away the whole gang assumed the name of P. E. P. (pepless ever pepless), and laughingly called themselves a fraternity, for promoting enthusiasm at athletic games.

Motto: Bacchus and the Bull.

Ambition: Absolutely none.

This year's chapter is characterized by a mob of would be social men. Their annual varsity, which by the way was a necessity and not a pleasure and was put on to raise eighty-six dollars to pay for damages done at the K. U. game. The dance was a typical Wampus Cat affair, which would have been a credit to any town over 453 population and the list of attendants was not published until the S. G. A. had met. It was rumored that some of the boys didn't know that there was a dance until they saw the notice in the Collegian.

At the present the members are organizing a bridge tournament, for the members, which will start next fall. A platform will be made, next to that of the band and the Kirties will entertain themselves during the game. Instead of exerting themselves between the halves by giving a stunt, the crowd will be cordially invited to attend the bridge. Reserve seats will be sold.

THE PARADE OF THE COLLEGE ANNUALS

ANNUALLY the Royal Purple marches in stately review — recording the achievements of the past year — making permanent chronicles of friendships and associations that future years will never efface.

The '30 Book proudly leads the parade, and stretching into the dim distance of yesterdays we vision the Year Books of other years.

College Days — the happiest and most eventful in our span of life.

As Leadership has made this Year Book outstanding in its editorial production so has Leadership made the Havens Printing organization worthy of note in producing College Annuals of finest craftsmanship in the printing art. It has given us the utmost pleasure to again have had the opportunity to cooperate in the creation of your annual.

Service Based on Understanding

W. A. A.

The W. A. A. was founded in a girl's dormitory in Peoria. The bunch that assisted in the organization in this locality was the "K" fraternity. Their main contribution was the lending of their motto, which is: "Not a hope in a carload." The order consists mostly of country girls who are as pure as snow (some of which has drifted). The social standing of the organization is at present horizontal, and the rise is very sluggish, amounting to almost nothing. Pledges are required to lift a huge dumb bell unassisted, learn all the songs, pass words, and creeds of the fraternity, and to memorize verbatim "Fascinating Womanhood." Once a week, Pat Kimball gives a lecture on "How to get the man of your choice and hold him." The group singing for each meeting is beautifully conducted by Pauline Samuel. She has submitted the following songs for publication:

"W. A. A."

(Tune, Jingle Bells)

W. A. A., W. A. A., yes that is our name,
We're every one having fun;
Always playing the ga—ame.
We make the team, earn our points,
And play till we're sore in the joints;
We may get fatter, but it doesn't matter,
For we get there just the same.

When the girls are entertaining rushees
they sing this little song:

"Come Out and Play."

(Tune, School Days)

Play time, fun time
In the grand ole' out doors,
Hockey and swimming and tennis, too;
Come out and play with us, each of you,
All sorts of sports indeed we'll find—
Win them or not we'll never mind;
Fun for us all and all for fun
When we are in the W. A. A."

As the last two lines are sung the girls all join hands as a token of the common bond which exists between them.

W. A. A. has been on the campus several years. No one knows how long because the girls haven't cut enough ice in campus social circles. Mortar Board is their closest rival, but when they failed to get a corner on selling the last issue of the Brown Bull they gave up in despair. It is noised about that unless conditions rapidly turn for the better, it is the secret ambition of this group to change their motto to this: "Although Nichols is her only gym, yet she has athlete's foot."

East Side, West Side - -

All around the town, you've eaten Chappel's Ice Cream, in the leading drug stores, confectioneries, restaurants. You've commented, even as you have heard those about you comment . . .

"Delicious . . . Satisfying . . . Such Smoothness . . . This ice cream truly is different!"

Consolation

(The scene is the den of Mary P. Van Zile, any day of the week. Reading from left to right on the next instalment of a continued story, is none other than the dean herself. A faint, timid little knock is heard at the door which is offstage.)

DEAN: Cuuuuuahhhm eeeeen. (Very musically).

(The door opens ever so slightly and a little college girl slips into the room and slides into a chair the dean indicates regally.)

DEAN: Hoowe doo yooue doo. Haaawaut cahhn I deww for youahou? (With a silver-toned rising inflection.)

GIRL: Oh Dean, Oh Dean, Oh Dean.

DEAN: Tell Deany, dear. (With anxiety peeping out from her lorngette.)

GIRL: It's too awful. (Blubbering.)

DEAN: You musn't keep anything from deahh old deany, chihuld. (Points finger at girl very chastisingly.)

GIRL: I didn't know, Oh Dean, I swear I didn't know. (Grasps forehead in a clutch of the hand.)

DEAN: Come ohhhun, tell deahhny.

GIRL: He was my first date, and I didn't know, Dean.

DEAN: Hawhat was it yoouu didn't know, chihuld?

GIRL: Whether to let him call me by my first name or not. (Bawling quite fluently.)

DEAN: Ohohooooooo. (Shrieking) Ohoooooohooo. To think that one of my own little girls should be so unprincipled. I had no ideauuh that it was thees sehhrrious. You have sinned, my child, but go and repent, and you may stahhhy in schoohul. (Girl beats it, and dean goes over and starts reading True Confessions, resignedly.)

Phi Kappas fill the flowing bowl for rush week. It is reported they will follow the time honored custom next fall of giving a minnow to each "spikee" as he takes the glad hand.

PERTHY: And mythelf am a brother in eight messes. Think what it means, fellows.

CHORUS: Well, what does it mean?

PERTHY: Why, we can swing the election.

ALGY: But what good will that do us?

PER.: Why, lisshen, mutt, we can fix it so it won't be any popularity contesh. I know what we'll do. We'll put the biggesht saps in college in the places and they'll have to like it. We'll pick the biggest bores we can think of, the most misherable ashes in thish whole institushion.

CHORUS: We will, all right, we will. BOY, BRING US A CASE OF LEMON.

(Here the curtain falls, and the audience realizes that the plotters are carrying out their nefarious plans. The curtain rises to show three men strolling on the campus: Alex Barneck, eighth semester sophomore; James Pratt, disgrace of the commerce department; and the potential G. Gorrell Biles. It is evident that the sentence of the student body is upon them.

PRATT: Well, I've lived down worse things.

BARNECK: And I, being an engineer.

BILES: But to think, that we should come to this. (Here all three draw a handkerchief and snuffle. The audience also becomes sympathetic and bawls as the curtain drops.)

The End

Editor: This last part was useless, and I apologize for your reading of it. Anyone knows that after the three bad men set out to elect the greatest goofs in school that the results were inevitable.

Glances at the Great

Believing that he had no chance of hanging up a record for service at Kansas State, J. T. Willard has disgustedly resigned from deanship of the general science division. The dean has been connected with the institution for some months.

"Hoxic" Freeman, wee athlete, is reported to have made a goal in one of last winter's basketball contests. S. G. A. is conducting an investigation to determine the facts.

Half of the college year was spent by two thirds of the students in attempting to select a name for the campus. Favorable titles include: Purple Hill, Big Bump, Little Mountain, Happy Valley, and the Smiling Pool.

Two others besides ye ed. were not given class office during the educational season. Some remedy is needed for this unprecedented situation. There should be at least enough offices to go around once.

"Prexy" Farrell gave a speech at Podunka, Maine, during May 1920 in which he used the term "agriculture" only once every three words.

Stirred by some unsuspected ambition, the engineering division promoted the addition of a new letter in concrete to be placed on Mount Prospect. Someone will probably spell out Kansas State Agricultural college some day when a few more hills can be induced to park themselves in the proper locations.

THE FRESHMAN SONG

Dedicated with gestures to Lawrence F. Younkman, beau brunnet delux

1. Although we're only freshmen we are dash in one respect-- How Younkman rises the Tri Delta house and all' others they reject. The Pi Phi's wanted him--and so did Alpha Xi. The Zeta's tried to rope him in, but he said it could not be.

Chorus: For they're all Younkman strong, boys, a heaven he has found; He's making his way, every day--for the Tri Delta House he's bound-- Oh give him a date, a porch, a night, his dreams 'll all come true if he can date a Tri Delta girl. Till she gets someone new.

2. He took the pick of the Tri Delta house And left the rest to all; Left Coffman in a hell of a state Cause he couldn't help a girl. He takes the little freshmen in and made her quite a line. Then takes her out upon the porch and gives her a big time.

Chorus.

3. He wouldn't date a Kappa, nor a silly Kappa D. He wouldn't date a fiddly Chi O or a dinky Alpha Xi. He's not a perfect man so it's nix on Alpha Delta-- He left a little Pi Phi just to date a cute Tri Delta.

Chorus (with much crescendo)

Presented to our dear friends, the Tri Delta, by the author:

SPEAKING
TEXT-BOOKS

Kansas Farmer
Covers Kansas
Like the Sunshine

KANSAS FARMER is the most used textbook of thousands of Kansas farmers. They read it thoroughly every week and find it always different and ever useful.

A. P. Davidson, associate professor of vocational agriculture at K. S. A. C. says, "Text-books no longer reign supreme in the field of vocational agriculture instruction. One of the best mediums offering seasonal instruction is the farm press." Mr. Davidson in his survey of 112 vocational agriculture departments of Kansas high schools found 67 farm papers in use, with Kansas Farmer heading the list as the only farm paper in all of the 112 schools. In 93% of these schools it was used as an actual text.

Many graduates of K. S. A. C., who are applying their education in practical farming, have found Kansas Farmer to be full of workable ideas that are always up-to-the-minute.
